Town Council Grants Pay Raise To Town Employees At Special Session Held Last Friday Night

Bayne Recommends Self-Dispensing Fuel Pumps Be Prohibited

The Virginia Beach Town Council in special session last Friday voted to raise pay of town employees from $6 weekly for laborers to a flat 10 per cent raise for police and firemen. The raises amount to $6,720 for the balance of the fiscal year, or September 1.

The council tabled a recommendation from Fire Chief H. E. Bayne that self-dispensing gasoline pumps be prohibited inside the town. The matter will be discussed at the council's next meeting by which time gas station operators will have been notified and can be present.

In other actions, the council:

1. Agreed to hire an assistant sanitation officer.
2. Ordered police to run a careful check on the automobiles of Beach residents to insure that all have valid license tags.
3. Called for strict enforcement of the town's ordinance prohibiting unnecessary noises.
4. Authorized a clean-up of all vacant lots in the town.

Town Manager W. Russell Hatchett explained the salary increases will not cause any change in the town's budget. The additional funds will come from two sources, renegotiated contracts and a depleted staff of town employees.

The assistant to Worth Petty, the town's sanitation officer, was not named, although it was decided he is to be hired to begin work May 1. The town will contribute $2,000 to his yearly salary, the rest—the total was not specified—will be paid by the State.

Crockett Backs State C. of C. Drive To 'Get A Member'

W. F. Crockett, prominent business man and civic leader of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, as a member of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce has volunteered to work in the organization's "Member-Get-A-Member" campaign.

Eldridge Smith, of Franklin, life insurance head, was named by the Chamber's board to head the State-wide drive under this plan.

The campaign will end at the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce in Roanoke, April 18-19, when members secured through this campaign will be presented to N. W. Kelley, president of the State Chamber for the past three years.

Each of the State Chamber's present members has been invited to enroll at least one new member between now and the 27th annual membership meeting at Roanoke. Those who accept the invitation are supplied with lists of the names and addresses of prospective new members of comparable standing in their own communities. In addition, each of the volunteers in the drive is supplied with factual material outlining the Chamber's current program and services, together with a membership application blank.

The dual goal of the "Member-Get-A-Member" campaign is the adding of $100,000 annually to the budget of this non-profit organization to increase the scope of its services to each community.

Local Jaycee Group Participates in Tree Planting Program

The Virginia Junior Chambers of Commerce have just concluded their most successful conservation program in their history with 19 chapters, including the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County organization, participating in the planting of 313,260 pine seedlings.

This has been announced by David Meade White, president of the Virginia Jaycees.

Mr. White praised the work of R. N. Hoskins, who is completing his second year as conservation chairman of the state and national organization, and L. Shields Parsons, Jr., state vice president, both of whom have been the real spark plugs in the program. The two-year-old program of tree planting sponsored by the state group has resulted in the planting of more than one half million trees.

The local chapter has participated in the program since 1949, the year the project was originated by the Norfolk Junior Chamber of Commerce, immediately adopted by the Virginia Junior Chamber and then by the National Organization, all within the same year.

According to President White those chapters participating this year are: Altavista, Arlington, Charlottesville, Culpeper, Danville, Franklin, Fredericksburg, Lynchburg, Martinsville, Norfolk, Petersburg, Radford, Richmond, Roanoke, Smithfield, Waverly, Winchester, and Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County.

Advisory Council on Economy Lists Needs for Virginia Farms

Virginia's farms need more livestock, more machinery, and more telephones and power lines, the agriculture committee of the Advisory Council on the Virginia Economy reports.

Such investments will pay for themselves in increased farm income, the committee report indicates. Commenting on government assistance to farmers, the report strongly advocated more research and information for farm use, but said that the present Federal price-support program in potatoes "discourages improvements in quality." Some duplications of service between various Federal, State and local agencies should be eliminated, it concluded.

The comprehensive study, "Improving the Economic Conditions of Farmers in Virginia," is the result of two years of work by 21 leading Virginians active in the farm field. The report has been forwarded to the 63-member Advisory Council, which will consider it prior to giving Governor Battle a full report on methods of improving the cash income of Virginia citizens, presently only 78 per cent of the national average.

In describing past trends of the State's agriculture, the report points out that farm crop acreages

'Heaven Can Wait' Next Little Theatre Play At Roland

Robert Addenbrook, Constance Crosby Have Lead Roles

By Elizabeth Hills

"Heaven Can Wait," the comedy-fantasy which will close the season for the Little Theatre when it comes to the Roland on April 23-24, is the story of Joe Pendleton, a nice young professional fighter, who also plays a saxophone, and does commercial flying when not fighting.

When his plane starts to crash, his soul is snatched by an over-zealous messenger from Heaven, who, when it is learned that Joe is slated to live another 60 years, is given the difficult job of finding him another body, his own having been unfortunately cremated by his manager. Joe is particularly "in the pink," like his body that's "in the pink," like his own. It takes the combined efforts of Messenger 7013 and Mr. Jordan, the deputy from Heaven, throughout three acts and many adventures, to solve the dilemma. And through it all Joe's trusty saxophone accompanies him.

Robert Addenbrook has the leading role of Joe. Constance Crockett Crosby, who has played a variety of roles, and can always be depended upon to give a star performance, plays Betty Logan, Joe's girl. James Allen, Jr., who played in "You Can't Take It With You" and "Arsenic," will play Max Levene, Joe's excited and bewildered manager.

Two newcomers to the group are Nancy Martin Stelson, playing Joe's wife in one of his bodies, and Robert Walnwright as Mr. Jordan, the deputy from Heaven. Both are seasoned Norfolk Little Theatre players, with long experience in non-professional acting.

Others in the cast are Norman Roblee as Messenger 7013; Walter L. Thrift as Tony Abbott, Julia's lover; Juanita Dickson as Mrs. Ames, the housekeeper; Erna Rice and Dorothy Belton as maids; Buddy Urey and Edgar Parker as Messengers from Heaven; Joseph LaGiglia as a Workman; Frank Isarrels as a doctor; Richard Munford as Lefty, a night manager.

"Heaven Can Wait" will be under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Masury, who has directed all of the plays this year. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. R. F. Trant, Jr., 42-J-12.

Jaycees Scrap Paper Drive to be April 15

The next scrap paper drive to be conducted by the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held on Sunday, April 15.

Democrats Name Whitehead to Head County Committee

Succeeds Hudgins; Other Committee Officers Named

C. T. Whitehead, Oceana and Virginia Beach businessman, was named chairman of the county's Democratic Executive Committee to succeed William F. Hudgins, who resigned the post last week.

At the time of his resignation, Mr. Hudgins said that he felt that inasmuch as all candidates for the primary election in August must qualify before the chairman of the Executive Committee of the party in order to be eligible to run in the primary, and since he himself is a candidate, that it is only fair that he tender his resignation.

Mr. Whitehead has long been active in Democratic party activities in the county. He is a hotel man, director of the Virginia Beach Building and Loan Association, a member of the board of directors of the Bank of Virginia Beach.

Also named were: J. P. Woodhouse, re-elected as secretary; Elliott Williamson, Pungo District, assistant secretary; and P. W. Ackley, vice chairman.

Hudgins Announces Alignment With Five Other Candidates to Form County 'People's Ticket'

Joan Faw, Student At R. P. L., Has Lead In Shakespeare Play

Miss Joan E. Faw, daughter of Mrs. Grace N. Faw, of 19th Street, and a sophomore drama student at the Richmond Professional Institute, has recently been selected to play the title role of Katherine in the city of Richmond's forthcoming production of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew."

During her year and a half of study at R. P. I., Miss Faw has taken an active part in college productions, with a record of thirty-four shows to her credit. She has played twenty-two different roles during this time.

In addition to her work at R. P. I., she has taken part in several outside productions in Richmond, including technical work with the Bliss Repertory Theatre, an independent professional touring company. She has recently completed a six-weeks series of scenes for the Richmond Jewish Women's Club, under the direction of Robert C. Watkins, Jr., instructor of drama at R. P. I.

Miss Faw has not worked entirely in one field. In the past six months she has had considerable radio experience, announcing the college radio program over WXGI, and appearing in dramatic presentations over MCVH at McGuire Veterans Hospital in cooperation with the Armed Forces Special Service.

"The Taming of the Shrew" will be presented early in May.

Junior Woman's Club Accepts Eleven New Members Tuesday

Eleven young women have been accepted as new members of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County. They attended the bi-monthly meeting of the club which was held Tuesday evening at the Community House. Mrs. Lynn Kennett, new president of the club, presided over the program meeting, which provided information on civil defense.

The incoming members include: Mrs. Sherman Wright, Mrs. Albert V. Crosby, Jr., Mrs. William Glets, Mrs. Edward A. Barco, Mrs. Douglas Stewart, Mrs. B. R. McCotter, Mrs. Louis E. Guy, Mrs. James Kitchin, Mrs. Thomas J. Kenney, Mrs. C. Roger Malbon, and Mrs. George Schaefer.

Group Petitioned to Form "Single Unit Without Delay"

William F. Hudgins, candidate for re-election as Clerk of the Princess Anne County Circuit Court, has announced that he will affiliate himself with five other opposition candidates as the People's Ticket for the forthcoming August primary. The others now making up the united ticket with Mr. Hudgins are: Charles Upton, sheriff; Willard F. Whitehurst, treasurer; Morris A. Bernath, House of Delegates; John B. Senter, Commissioner of Revenue; and Robert Lee Simpson, Commonwealth's Attorney.

Mr. Hudgins' announcement came after a group of independent voters, headed by J. Willson Dunn, petitioned the group individually to unite and "allow yourselves to be welded into a single aggressive unit without delay."

The group's petition to the candidates, which was dated March 28, read:

"Though you, the five People's Ticket candidates, and William F. Hudgins, unaffiliated candidate for Clerk of the Court, in the forthcoming Princess Anne August primaries may not necessarily be considered by all voters the best qualified as individual candidates to serve, it is our belief, however, that, in view of all the existing circumstances, it is wise in order to defeat the 'so-called' organization for you six candidates to unite under one banner and thus give the opposition or People's Party of this county the strongest available combination.

"Therefore, as a group of independent voters, we urge that if you, the aforementioned candidates, can agree, you allow yourselves to be welded into a single aggressive unit without delay."

People's Ticket Reply

The announcement of Mr. Hudgins' affiliation with the previously announced People's Ticket, was dated March 30, and signed by all six of the candidates. It read:

"In light of the foregoing independent voters' request, we agree to unite under the People's Ticket banner and to stand upon its platform.

"Respectively of each voter's present regard for us as individuals, we as a party of the people, solicit his or her support to the end that Princess Anne County once again may practice Democracy. When elected we shall recognize that it is solely the People's victory and that we are their public servants, and that as the taxpayers' trustees the foundation of our platform is the oath of office."

Club to Celebrate First Anniversary At Special Meeting

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Princess Anne County will celebrate its first anniversary on Sunday, April 8, with an Embroider Breakfast at the Pine Tree Inn at 8 a.m.

The program includes welcoming of members and guests by Mrs. Rose Lee Merger, president; songs by Miss Clavon McGrath, of Oceana, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Hittings; the Embroider address by Miss Elizabeth Pugh, of Virginia Beach; followed by the candlelight service presided over by Mrs. Lettie Brockwell, of Norfolk, State Embroider chairman.

The club's regular business meeting will be held on Monday, April 9, at the Community House, at 8 p.m. At this time a nominating committee will be appointed to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN OPENS—Mrs. George Ross, campaign chairman of the Norfolk Community Concert Association, is shown as she opened the 21st annual membership campaign of the association at a luncheon of workers recently.

THE LOCAL COMMUNITY AND CRIME

For those who have not yet had the opportunity to read the first of a series of articles (beginning this week) in the Saturday Evening Post by U. S. Senator Kefauver, entitled "Crime in the United States," we would like to quote some very pertinent passages, and to suggest that all of our readers find the articles and read them, with an open mind.

What the Senator has to say regarding the responsibility for correcting the situation is most interesting. "The Job, of course, is primarily a local, not a Federal, responsibility; and without the backing of citizens on the local level no laws, state or national can be effective."

"...as a realist, I still cannot shut out completely a feeling of fright as I contemplate how close America has come to the saturation point of criminal and political corruption which may pull us down entirely. I look about the world and see once-sons, once-proud nations of Europe and elsewhere where the infection of criminal and political corruption set in and progressed to the point where democracy and national strength were utterly lost. I ask myself—and it is a good question for every citizen to ask—Did the citizens and the legislative bodies of these ruined countries realize what was happening? Couldn't they sense that the mass of politico-criminal corruption would so weaken both the moral and economic fibers of their countries that their homelands inevitably must degenerate into ruined, impotent, third-class powers?"

"The big question—and I put it bluntly—is this: Has criminal and political corruption, which we now know is rampant in the United States, reached the point where this country, too, must follow the downward path after others? I say that we are dangerously close to that ruinous point. However, though the hour is late, it is not yet too late. We can beat organized crime if all good citizens will open their eyes to the danger we are in. We can beat it if we recognize the unholy alliance of criminals and their "respectable" front men for what they are—hoodlums and despoilers rather than glamorous figures or heroes—and go after them with the same determination and ruthlessness that they employ in milking and perverting our society for their own gains."

When Governor Battle made his statement regarding gambling in Virginia, he must have been thinking of sections of the State other than Princess Anne County. When referring to "local operations" his memory is obviously short in the light of our record for the past several years.

His statement of policy: "It has been our policy to take the position that the primary responsibility for all law enforcement results upon local officials. But we want it very definitely understood that in the event the local authorities need assistance or should prove unable or unwilling to enforce the laws in their communities, then every facility of the State will be marshaled to insure impartial law enforcement" might be his projected policy for the future but the record shows that it has not applied too well in the past.

To check the record, consider the well organized hold-up gang which robbed some 40 or 50 guests at the Piney Point Club in 1948. Does Mr. Battle consider that local operation? If so, why has there been no solution to the crime? Does our Governor think that operators of the wire services into the State are selling ping pong results? A list was made public by the Federal government last summer showing five wire here in the county—five inter-state hookups with facilities used by syndicated crime. The good Governor could look over the extensive lists of slot machine license holders in the State available from the U. S. Revenue Department's branch in Richmond.

No, Governor Battle, we do not think that your stated policy for law enforcement has been an over-worked one. Your statement with respect to the past could not encompass the County of Princess Anne. The wide-spread publicity in the papers of the State could not have escaped your attention.

Finally, we would like to recall to you your reply to a letter from J. Wilcox Dunn: "I regret that . . . you do not . . . supply tangible information upon which enforcement action could be taken . . ." (Published in the Virginia Beach News in October, 1950.) When the tangible evidence was furnished, you DID thank him.

This entirely contradicts your statement of policy. Where there is evidence enough to warrant suspicion you refused the assistance which you now claim.

In theory, the Kefauver Committee has put the finger on a number of respected citizens in the good State of Virginia. The findings of that group on a national level make clear the local picture. The gross negligence on the part of our law enforcement agents places them in the same category as the actual law violators. The politicians here, and presumably in the State, seeking the support of gamblers and racketeers have jeopardized the well being of the people. The findings of the Senate Committee indicate the close ties between machine politicians and racketeers on the local level.

Our own Princess Anne County organization claims with pride its membership in the State set-up.

Campaign platforms have been built around its connections in Richmond and Washington. Claims of benefit derived from these associations are included in every political speech, yet the party line in the State Capitol doesn't seem to realize just who is talking from this end.

Is it possible to believe that there is no link between racketeers and politicians? No! When the known local gangsters are seen working at the polls.

The definite pattern set forth in the national hearings would be recognized if a similar hearing were held in the State of Virginia.

Our churches are members of the National Council of Churches, which Council has taken up the banner. From at least one of our local pulpits we have heard the answer. "Don't think for one minute that all of the fault found in New York lies in New York or even Washington; No, it lies as well in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, Norfolk, Richmond and on up the ladder. Correct first our own conditions."

The hue and cry has not simmered down with temporary closing of the clubs where the more flagrant violations take place and it is our hope that it will not until the forces of control and the alliances of politics and racketeers have been broken.

April 3, 1951
Editor of Virginia Beach Sun
Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Editor:

"Despite the efforts of a few to stoke the fire under the political pot in Princess Anne County so as to bring it to a boil, it continues as a slow simmer. Which is probably just as well, for one of the cooks, and a few kibitzers, do not seem to know just what ingredients to toss into the pot."

"Both the chef and the cook—who is really just an apprentice—announce they are cooking the same main dish, good government for all the people of the county. The chef has put in his ingredients and is ready to serve a time-proven combination of integrity, fair dealings, experience, honesty and a will to serve, and will have it ready for the table when the dinner bell rings. The apprentice cook apparently is too busy trying to think up a clever name for the chef's main dish to concentrate on selecting the proper ingredients for his own stew, which just don't seem to thicken properly. He knows one ingredient is missing—but which one? And should he yank out the wild onion and put a dash of cayenne in instead? One of his ingredients he had banked on to give his dish a sweet savor, is unavailable."

"One thing appears certain from our seat way back here in the last days of March: The people who will have to eat what's now on the stove most certainly will choose the wholesome, healthy main dish from the experienced chef, rather than risk indigestion from the strange and fantastic concoction of an apprentice cook who don't know what he now has in his goulash—or what to add."

After many readings of the foregoing editorial which appeared in your March 30, 1951 issue, I take it that "chef" refers to the incumbent political machine and apprentice "cook" the opposition. It is assumed that the term "chef" is in accordance with the broad approved usage indicating one who conceals and directs the preparation of dishes but does not himself share any of the mental kitchen responsibilities.

There appears to be no evidence that the chef's dish is not the same old one, Good Government, hashed for the people. The so-called apprentice cook—the machine's opposition—seems to be roasting a "foul." Closer scrutiny reveals it to be a goose—the chef's very own—and come sunset August 7, unless the cook gets careless, every indication is that this goose (the chef's) will be cooked.

"Common Glory" To Begin Fifth Season July 3

The Jamestown Corporation has voted to establish Tuesday, July 3, as the opening day for the fifth season of "The Common Glory," and announced a production schedule this year of 54 performances.

Simultaneously, the corporation elected former Governor Colgate W. In establishing the July 3 opening, the corporation set the latest start for any season since 1947, when the original production got under way on July 17.

The coming season will be the shortest in the history of "The Common Glory," being a half-week shorter than the first three seasons, and two weeks shorter than that of 1950. This year's final performance will be on Saturday, September 2, the night before Labor Day.

There are 600-800 adults serving in the Boy Scouts of America as volunteer leaders.

OCEANA High School News

By High School Reporters
A Review of Last Week at Oceana High School

One would surely have thought that dwarfs were abiding in our fair community had they glimpsed the pretty little ladies and handsome gents participating in the Tom Thumb wedding ceremony last Friday night.

Sixty-eight elementary "ladies" and "gentlemen" participated in this Band Club sponsored event; the group, consisting of the bride and her attendants, the groom and his attendants, and their respective families. The entire affair was formal and carried out as so formally and beautifully as could be imagined.

Sylvia Brown, as the bride, was astonishingly radiant and demure. The groom, Tom Williamson, the preacher, Eddie Taylor, and the entire cast are to be congratulated for being perfectly lavishing ladies and courtly gentlemen. Congratulations to Mrs. Charles Hitchings and the Band Club.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, the Oceana Band took the spotlight with their talent, gleaming brass, and brand new uniforms. The concert, presented by Mr. Cantwell and the band, was indeed a versatile and enjoyable performance. For those whose taste favors waltzes, there was the "Waves of the Danube" for novelty, "The Thing" was presented by Eva Lee Savage, accompanied by the band; also the popular "Tennessee Waltz" and the march, "Champions on parade" were some of the numbers on the program.

To highlight the evening, the original pep song, "Cavalier," written by Nancy Dawson, was presented. The school has been waiting with anticipation to hear this song, and there definitely was no room for disappointment. Congratulations to Nancy for a needed and appropriate gift of a good Oceana High School pep song.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS

During April, the Home Demonstration Clubs of Princess Anne County are being asked to sponsor community registration in their own neighborhoods. According to the Citizenship Committee of the Princess Anne County Home Demonstration Club, which prepared this information for club leaders, they suggest that clubs may do this by:

1. Asking the local registrar for the most convenient day or night, preferably night, that he could be at a given place at a specified time.
2. Announce this arrangement to the club. Place posters in store windows. Have club members act as baby sitters at the registration place, and others to furnish transportation if needed. Announce all plans through the newspapers, including the phone number of the person to contact for information.

3. Be prepared to help by giving information to anyone wanting to know how to become qualified, but in no way give any impression of trying to influence a voter in partisan politics. Your Marsh material will tell you all you need to know, and if extra questions come up your Virginia Election Laws book will help.

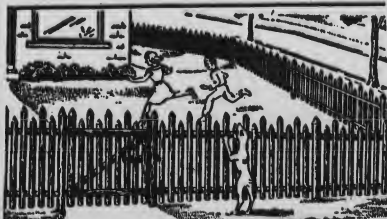

4. Since we should always be on the alert for civic-minded people to join our clubs and help to carry on these projects in the communities, this is a good way to establish friendly contacts with the

April is Water Heater Month

SUMMER coming in—FURNACE going out—so April's a fine time to see your electrical appliance dealer or your plumber about Hot-Water-By-Wire! An automatic electric water heater eliminates using costly furnace coils that give poor service at best, none at all in the summer—while using 20% of the fuel you burn!

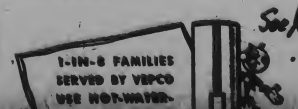

Think a few weeks ahead—to the increase in clothes to be washed—the increase in baths and showers—and decide that this is YOUR time to change to worry-free water heating! Of course, it's ELECTRIC—as safe and clean as electric light, and so automatic, you'll forget there's a water heater in the house!

While you sleep—while other appliances are idle—your automatic ELECTRIC water heater is storing up enough piping HOT water for all your needs, around the clock, around the calendar. And—separately metered, it does its wonderful job at VEPCO's thrifty of peak rate — heating four gallons of water for a mere penny!

Count noses (and bath rooms and water-using equipment!) in your home—then let your electrical appliance dealer or your plumber estimate your daily average needs, and advise you as to the best size electric water heater for your family. Get one BIG enough—it costs no more to heat a gallon of water in an 80-gallon tank than a 30-gallon one!

Great Mozart Festival Scheduled At University of Virginia July 6-8

A week-end of elaborate musical celebrations, to be the first in a series of annual great composers festivals, was announced this week for the University of Virginia. The first of the series, to be presented at the University July 6, 7 and 8, will be the Great Mozart Festival which will be devoted to its entirety to the celebration of the art of Mozart.

The Festival will open in Cabell Hall at 8:30 p.m., Friday, July 6, with a concert by the Mozart Trio in a program of vocal chamber music. The final event at 8:00 p.m., Sunday, will be a symphonic concert by the augmented National Gallery Orchestra.

On Saturday evening in McIntire Amphitheater the Festival Opera Company will perform Mozart's comic opera, "The Impresario." The Saturday evening program will also feature an Eighteenth Century fireworks display and a performance of the motets for soprano and orchestra, "Johann Sebastian Bach."

Other Festival events on Saturday and Sunday include exhibitions of Mozart relics, a concert by a famous string quartet, two lectures, and a showing of the movie production of "The Marriage of Figaro." For the quartet's concert a distinguished violinist will be engaged to perform the Viola Quintet.

At present, the Festival is not engaging in a general ticket sale but is receiving memberships on a private invitation basis. It is understood that, when tickets become available to the general public, the cost of the entire Festival will be $10.00 plus tax. Persons interested in securing reservations should write now to Festival Committee, 138 Chancellor Street, Charlottesville, Virginia. Through private beneficence, free, all-expense-paid trips to the Festival will be provided for the students of more than 120 high schools. The details of this arrangement will be announced in the near future, it was stated.

The Festival Committee is trying to make its undertaking attractive to budget-conscious families. Some desirable housing will be available for as little as $1.50 per night, and the University Cafeteria will serve substantial luncheons and dinners of good quality for as little as 65 cents each.

The Festival will operate a nursery and will have supervised play for other children.

The Great Mozart Festival is being sponsored by The Evening Concert Groups, a non-profit federation of eight organized chamber music audiences. The Concert Groups have already selected as Music Director of the Festival, Richard Bales, who is Music Director of the National Gallery of Art and Conductor of the National Gallery Orchestra.

Maury Glee Club To Appear Here

The Maury High School Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Sena B. Wood, will be presented by the Virginia Beach Music Club on Tuesday, April 10, at 8:30, in Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church at Virginia Beach.

The presentation will be a preview of the Glee Club's appearance at the Spring Music Festival, Natural Bridge, on April 27.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge, according to Mrs. J. R. Pritchard, of the Music Club.

provide cash income for small farm residents. To bring its many detailed suggestions to realization, the report makes recommendations for farmers, for businessmen, and for governmental agencies. Briefly, they are as follows:

The farmer must seek to use abandoned land for efficient production, probably of livestock; he must work closely with his local county agricultural agent, to determine the most profitable use of each acre of his land; and he must exert all efforts to increase and improve rural telephone and electric power service. In a day of mechanization and fast-changing market conditions, "dependable rural telephone service can save time and money in numerous ways for farmers," the committee report states.

Private business can aid by extending farm machinery repair facilities to rural areas, chiefly through mobile units which can cut down loss of time from breakdowns; by aiding in the creation of a stabilized employment; by eliminating occasional excessive charges for the rental of custom grain combines; and by creating new and improved types of farm machinery, the study indicates.

Although much consideration was given to marketing problems by members of the committee, no specific recommendations in this field are made. According to Otis H. Miller, of Culpeper, chairman of the council agriculture committee, this is being handled by the council's committee on marketing, one of the 17 groups whose reports are to be considered by the council in assembling recommendations for the major report to the Governor.

Governmental actions recommended by the agriculture committee included the following:

- (1) That the Agricultural Extension Service, composed of farm leaders throughout the State, assist the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station at Blacksburg in determining research programs.
- (2) That the agricultural research program put more emphasis on livestock.
- (3) That local governments adopt and enforce more stringent laws to prevent livestock-killing by stray dogs.
- (4) That the educational program on farm machinery repair be greatly extended.
- (5) That the Virginia Truck Experiment Station, now operating independently, be placed under the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.
- (6) That the State Extension Service increase its information dissemination and confusion through a central clearing arrangement.
- (7) That the State Department of Agriculture sponsor a meeting of all agencies interested in agriculture, that they may work out among themselves a memorandum of understanding that clearly defines their responsibilities and work.

Harry Sawyer, for Supervisor; B. O. Oliver, for Justice of the Peace, Endorse People's Ticket

Kempville, Seaboard Candidates to Seek Election in August

Two new candidates this week declared themselves supporters of the People's Ticket in the August primary.

They are: Harry A. Sawyer, Princess Anne, who has announced for Supervisor from the Seaboard District, and B. O. Oliver, of Kent County View, for Justice of the Peace in the Kempville District.

In a statement, Mr. Sawyer said:

"I am entering this race after long consideration. If I am elected, I will do my best to carry out the wishes of the people of my district and the county and will not be dictated by any clique."

"I would like to see better schools in the county and in my district and will ask for the improvement that has been lacking in the past 10 years. I shall particularly ask for the betterment of roads, both in the county and in my district. Those roads mean a lot to the prosperity of the farmer, and their improvement is a necessity."

"I approve of the platform of the People's Ticket and believe that it is a means of obtaining better government in Princess Anne County."

B. Paul Brown, incumbent supervisor from the district, previously announced his candidacy for re-election. So far, he and Sawyer are the only candidates for the Seaboard seat on the Board of Supervisors.

A native of Belhaven, N. C., Mr. Sawyer has been a resident of the county for 20 years and engages in general farming. He is a steward in the Salem Methodist Church, a member of the Farm Bureau, and is active in fraternal organizations.

For Justice of the Peace
Mr. Oliver, who is a grocer, is running on the newly formed People's Ticket.

He lives at 126 Third Street, East Ocean View. He will oppose E. B. McCoy, the incumbent.

"I think we ought to have competition, and younger men should get into politics," Mr. Oliver said.

The candidate, who operates Oliver's Market, at 2405 East Ocean View Avenue, is a past president of the Ocean View Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Norfolk. He has lived in the Ocean View area for eight years.

Officers of the newly formed club are: Mrs. Robert C. Hale, president; Mrs. Horace Wood, of Virginia Beach, vice president. On the board of directors are Mrs. William O. Tynan and Mrs. Wiley Harrell, both of Virginia Beach, and Theresa Neugebauer.

Ground Observers Urgently Needed In Defense Set-Up

Ground observers in the local civilian defense set-up will participate in the Eastern Air Defense Ground Observer exercises on April 14 and 15, according to W. R. Macdonald, who heads up the local organization.

Mr. Macdonald said that volunteers are needed urgently to take part in the town's observation forces, and appealed to those interested to sign up so that they might have this week-end's opportunity to take part in the area-wide exercises.

The local forces will watch from the police station, in one-hour shifts, reporting to the filter center in Richmond all planes observed in the area, identifying them when possible.

"We hope that we will be able to interest a lot more people in joining up with our group," Mr. Macdonald said. "If the situation becomes serious, we will have to have ground observers on duty 24 hours of each day, and we need to train them in sufficient numbers to take care of that."

He asked that any persons who can join the local observers call either of the deputies: Mrs. Harry F. Ames, at 1438-M, or E. W. Smith, at 1768-J.

Battle Proclaims Thursday, April 26 'Cape Henry Day'

Noted Speakers to Appear Here During Annual Observance

Senator Willis Smith, of North Carolina, will be the principal speaker at the 1951 observance of the anniversary of the landing of the first permanent English settlers at Cape Henry on April 26, 1607. Senator Smith will speak at ceremonies at the memorial cross on Cape Henry on Sunday, April 28.

The anniversary date, which falls on Thursday, has been set aside by Governor John S. Battle as "Cape Henry Day" in Virginia. The Governor's proclamation, which was issued last week, says in part:

"One of the significant dates in world history was April 26, 1607, when the first permanent English settlers disembarked on the shores of the New World at Cape Henry."

Christopher Steele, British Minister to the United States, will speak on "International Cooperation for the Preservation of Freedom" at the Governor's Dinner, Saturday night, April 28, at the Cavalier Hotel. The Governor's Dinner is a feature of the annual celebrations, of which this year's is the 26th.

The Society of Mayflower Descendants in the Commonwealth of Virginia is to place a wreath on the cross during the religious services.

Hugh S. Watson, Jr., of Newport News, governor of the Mayflower Descendants in Virginia, sent a letter to Mrs. Francis Taylor, president of the Order of Cape Henry 1951, asking that the society be allowed to make the presentation.

His letter said in part: "We would like for you to know that we appreciate your efforts in keeping alive and bringing to mind the early history of our State by remembering the small group of founders who planted the seed for our democracy."

The National Society of the Daughters of American Colonists will also send a memorial wreath, as it has done in past years. This organization erected the Cape Henry Cross in 1935.

Funds Are Urgently Needed to Carry on Expanded Program

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County lack nearly $4,500 of reaching their $14,281 goal in the Red Cross 1951 fund drive, according to press reports.

The drive, which was originally set for the month of March, has had to be extended in the community in order that the full goal could be reached. Red Cross officials said.

W. F. Kilik, general chairman for the fund drive, said that some of the reports from the various districts in the county were not yet complete. "Moreover," he added, "I feel every confidence that we will make our goal. We always have, and people realize that this year more than ever before their dollars to the Red Cross are carrying on an important work."

He pointed out the need for additional funds because of the Red Cross's whole blood program, especially that part which supplies blood for Korean war casualties.

"We'll reach the goal, all right," Mr. Kilik said. "We'll expend every effort to do it, and I know that the workers are wholeheartedly doing everything in their power to be successful in Princess Anne County's drive."

Collections by Districts

Reports from the districts of the county are not all in. Red Cross officials stressed.

PRINCESS ANNE'S PROBLEMS

Princess Anne County's phenomenal growth in the period from 1940 to 1950 has caused some phenomenal problems to the government of the county.

The unofficial figures found in the University of Virginia's News Letter show that Princess Anne County grew from 19,804 in 1940 to 43,577 in 1950—a total change of 22,793 people, or 111.6 per cent growth. Natural increase would have been expected to be 4,363, which indicates that nearly 18,000 persons have migrated into the county in ten years. Indications are that this amount is almost entirely in the white population.

That leaves it up to the county government to provide facilities of many kinds for these people—water, roads, police and fire protection, housing and schools.

The latter is paramount in the minds of almost all citizens today. In the Kemperville and Lynnhaven Districts, and Virginia Beach, the majority of the newcomers are to be found, and it is in these sections where the crowding in the schools is most acute.

At best, the schools in the county are not up to the standard we would like to see them; in those which are crowded to the point where double shifts for the various grades are necessary, the quality of the schooling descends to a new low, for under these crowded conditions learning the three R's becomes a heavy burden for both children and teacher.

Relieving the crowding and bettering the quality of our schools is an important problem facing Princess Anne County. It is one that must not be put off. It must be solved, and now!

THE RED CROSS

Once again Princess Anne County has had to extend the closing date of a campaign for funds, this time for the American Red Cross's annual campaign.

While the citizen today has more and more calls upon his already strained pocketbook, this is one appeal that must not go unheeded.

The work of the Red Cross cannot be duplicated by any other agency. Disaster work, individual assistance, storm relief—all of these and many more are expected of the organization. Now it has added a mammoth program of supplying whole blood and plasma for emergencies and for the casualties of the war—a program that has cut the death rate of the soldiers fighting in Korea many times.

Sending in our checks to swell the fund is little enough contribution to the Red Cross and to what it means in a strife torn world. Let us all here in Princess Anne work and strive toward completing the goal for 1951.

OPEN AND SHUT

(Reprinted from the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot of April 7, 1951)

Mr. Snider of the Ledger-Dispatch certainly found a variety of opinion when he questioned the candidates for political office in Princess Anne County on "What, in your opinion, is the reason for night clubs in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach being closed at this time?"

Broadly, the opinions seem to fall into two classifications: one group, from those now in office, and another, from those seeking office. But we are not now so much interested in the opinions as in other aspects of the situation.

If the gentlemen now are willing to offer opinions as to why the clubs are shut, it follows that they know they are shut. If they know that they are shut, they must have known that at one time they were open. And since the shutting of clubs once open is worthy of concern and comment, it follows that there must be something unusual—yes, even suspicious—about the operation of these clubs.

Now if all these people, representing a cross-section of the leadership and would-be leadership in the county and at the Beach, know that these suspicion-breeding clubs, now shut, were once open—why hasn't somebody in Princess Anne County done something about it before the current shut-down?

March Defense Bond Sales Hold Steady

The fact that Virginians maintain a healthy respect for Defense Bonds despite the high cost of living would appear to be borne out by March sales that amounted to $5,058,255. In Princess Anne County sales amounted to $3,850 in March.

Sales in March, for the State as a whole, at issue price by series, were as follows: E's $4,143,455; F's $251,600; and G's $663,200.

Wasteful Federal Spending Lowers Housing Standards

Wasteful Federal spending for unessential non-defense purposes will lower American housing standards unnecessarily during the emergency, according to R. H. Taylor of Paul Reed and Building Supplies Corporation, local building materials dealer and member of the public affairs committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"In the first place, the increased taxes collected to finance the excessive spending mean that the public has that much less to spend on repairing and improving its homes," Mr. Taylor said.

"In addition, because the wasteful spending by the government adds to the inflationary pressure which has been forcing prices up, the government attempts to counteract that pressure by imposing unnecessarily harsh credit restrictions on new home purchases, thus preventing many families from acquiring a new home.

"It is true that shortages of some critical materials will require some reduction in housing construction during the emergency, but there obviously is no urgent need for a 40 per cent cut-back in new homes, such as has been recommended by the Housing and Home Finance Agency when production of automobiles and household appliances, which use critical materials almost exclusively, is being cut back considerably less.

"Adoption of conservation methods would enable the building industry to construct at least 50 per cent as many new homes as were built last year with 30 to 40 per cent less critical material, if credit were not so rigidly restricted to offset the extravagant and unnecessary spending for non-military purposes in Washington," Mr. Taylor added.

Methodist Churches Schedule Revivals

The Tabernacle revival will begin Friday night, April 27, and will last until May 6. There will be preaching service each night at 7:45. The Rev. Mr. Smith will also conduct these services.

KEMPSVILLE
High School News*Junior-Senior Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom will be held Friday night, May 11, in the Kempsville gymnasium, which will be decorated with the school colors, blue and white. The theme of the prom will be graduation. A 30-minute floor show will be presented by Eva May Morris and students of her dancing school. On the menu will be turkey, with all the trimmings. The 4-H girls will serve.

The juniors are sponsoring a faculty game tonight (Friday, April 13), in the auditorium to bring their dance funds to the top. A double-header will be played, with the men's faculty pitted against the junior varsity, and the women's faculty vs. girls.

Eleanor Parsons Wins Arion Foundation Music Award

Eleanor Parsons, senior student and first chair French horn in the Kempsville Band, has been awarded the Arion Foundation Award for outstanding musical achievement. This award gives her the privilege of having her name placed on a scholarship list of more than 50 universities, colleges and conservatories, which will entitle her to audition for one of the many scholarships given each year. This award is sponsored by the Kempsville Band Club to further inspire its band members to more musical achievement and to give opportunities for advance study.

Eleanor was selected from the applicants sent in as having the highest number of points of any graduating musician in Princess Anne County.

As the Arion Foundation is nationally recognized by the Bandmasters of America Association, and the music industry, we are proud to have one of our own members meet the stiff requirements for this award.

Eleanor plays the piano and French horn, is secretary of the band, treasurer of the Tri-Hi-Y Club, president of the French Club and a member of the Beta Club. Although only 18, she directs the Blackwater Baptist Church Choir.

Band News

Four members of the Kempsville High School Band have won positions on the All-State Work Shop Band. Those selected and the instruments they play are:

Eleanor Parsons, French horn; Garland Barlow, B-flat clarinet; Shirley Humphries, B-flat clarinet; and Raymond Tice, alto clarinet. Merrill Barrett was placed as alternate tenor saxophonist.

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y Club of Kempsville has been very active during the past month. Activities included the filling of an Easter basket for a needy family.

Two delegates and a reporter from the group were sent to the Youth and Government meeting held in Richmond April 6 and 7. The delegates were Owen Eubanks and Sylvia Suther; the reporter Katie Edwards.

The purpose of the Youth and Government is to teach high school students more about government in Virginia. While they were in Richmond, Tri-Hi-Y representatives from all over Virginia actually held offices in the government.

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y held an induction service Tuesday, April 3. New members include: Suzanne Peirce, Ramona Scott, Jeanette Singletary, Jo Ann Thompson, Nancy Kirby, Mildred Brinkley, Carolyn Everette, Patsy Free, Carole Hester, Alma Res, Evelyn Underhill, Margaret Fentress, Shirley Humphries, Doris Ann Purcell, Catherine Erard, Janette Halsey, Catherine Land, Mary Ann Mitchell, Peggy Webb, Barbara Edwards, Florence Jackson, Carolyn Norfleet, Barbara Whitehead, Bonnie Young, Tita Jones, Dorothy Chaplin, Doris Hubbard, Betty Hester, Mildred Harten, and Ruth Meisel.

Glee Club to Present Comedy

The musical comedy "Marrying Marian" will be presented by the Kempsville Glee Club on May 3 at 8 o'clock in the Kempsville High School auditorium.

The cast is as follows: Ann Ansell as Marian; Jesse Diphoye as Charles, the lover; Chris Hudgins as the old maid who is madly in love with Tommy Estel, the botanist; Evelyn Lupton as Mrs. Bonkous; Ira Mercer as Mr. Bonkous; Helen Howell as a wise blonde; and Edgar Simpson as a combination butler and crook.

Ann Elizabeth Norfleet Married to Russell Dawson Taylor Saturday

The marriage of Miss Ann Elizabeth Norfleet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bull Norfleet, to Russell Dawson Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butts Taylor, took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Calise Episcopal Church. The Rev. Edmund Workeley, rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with tiers of lighted cathedral candles, white cut flowers, magnolia and Southern amaranth. Mrs. George Aldridge, organist, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace styled with a sheer yoke encircled with applique lace flowers embroidered with pearls, long lace sleeves ending in wedding peaks over the hands, lace bodice over satin fastened over the back with small self-covered buttons. The full satin skirt set with two wide panels of lace down the front and back, extended into a long train. Her full length French ivory illusion veil fell from a tiara of pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a double cascade bouquet of imported white lilies and brides roses.

Miss Carlotta Bull Norfleet, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Foster Norfleet, Miss Nancy Stephens Norfleet, sisters of the bride, Miss Betty Lou Jones, of Norfolk, cousin of the bride, Miss Allie Elizabeth Grace, of Suffolk, Miss Louisa Keithley Dawson, of Arlington, cousin of the bridegroom, Mrs. Hugh Edward Owens and Mrs. Frank Courtney Booker, Jr.

The maid of honor wore a gown of wood violet rayon marquisette over taffeta made with a portrait neckline, basque bodice, and full gored skirt accented by double tucks at the hipline. She carried a double cascade bouquet of lavender lilies and lavender tulips. The bridesmaids wore gowns like that of the maid of honor, and in the same shade. They carried triple cascade bouquets of yellow freasias and yellow tulips, and wore headpieces of wood violet veiling.

Miss Keithley Rose, of Richmond, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a dress of pale yellow organdy made with a yoke applique with small roses of imported lace, full skirt and wide mesh.

Frank Courtney Booker, Jr., was best man, and the groomsmen were J. Peter Holland, III, Chodwin S. Jordan, W. Scribner Johnson, Vivian B. Hodgson, all of Virginia Beach; Charles Taper Rose, of Richmond; Frank K. Perebee, of Portsmouth; Lt. W. Franklin Guy, Jr., of Washington; and Edward F. Lord, of Philadelphia.

How can you explain these times to a boy?

To you, the world is in a pretty sorry state. But not to a boy. He's growing up in times like these. He doesn't remember anything much different.

Perhaps you ought to remind him that many precious things may be taken from him, temporarily. Many prized American freedoms, rights and opportunities must be suspended for a while, as the price of arming the nation against aggression.

But warn him that there may be danger of losing these freedoms permanently. Because there are some people who, for years, have been saying, "The government ought to own and run things. The railroads, for example, and the electric light and power companies." And right now the defense program may give these people a new opportunity for putting over their idea of government ownership and permanent controls.

And tell him that the real name of this idea is socialism, and that most Americans don't want it. For socialism means that people have less money, and fewer rights and privileges.

Tell him we all must make sacrifices today. But tell him, also, that when we give up any of our freedoms, we must be sure to keep the claim check that says, "Return to bearer on demand."

To help everyone remember the difference between temporary emergency powers and permanent socialism, we publish this reminder.

Police Department Issues Stern Warning to Motorists to Heed Laws Regarding School Buses

New Regulations Issued for Children in North Va. Beach

The Virginia Beach police have issued a warning to motorists that regulations regarding the passing of school buses will be strictly enforced and violators will be summoned into court, and has issued rules for the loading and unloading of school buses.

The Chief of Police, Reeves Johnson, in issuing the statement, said that:

"The Police Department is beginning to receive requests to escort the school buses in the north Virginia Beach area because of motorists not observing the State regulation requiring all motorists to stop regardless of the direction of travel when a bus is loading or discharging passengers. It should be absolutely unnecessary for the police to leave their duties of policing the areas where the small children are walking to and from the school when there is heavy traffic in the business section of town to escort a bus to cause motorists to abide by the regulation that has been widely publicized and is clearly printed on the buses.

"This department wants to give all the protection possible to our school children but it can't have officers everywhere at the same time. This is being released as a warning that the police are going to tighten the enforcement of this regulation and also that the following regulation regarding the loading of the children and discharging of them has been adopted and agreed to by the officials of the school and police department regarding the north Virginia Beach school bus service.

"Those living on the east side of Atlantic Avenue will board the bus as it is going toward Ft. Story from their side of the street and will be discharged in a like manner in the afternoon. While those living on the west side of Atlantic Avenue will board and be discharged as the bus comes toward Virginia Beach. This will eliminate any children crossing the highway, but at the same time it will not give any motorist the privilege of passing the bus. This regulation is to be correctly carried out with no exceptions."

Theatre-Go-Round To Return for Second Summer Season

Louie Savage, producer of the Theatre-Go-Round, has announced that the popular theatre in the round will return again this summer to Virginia Beach for its second season.

With her will be many of last year's players who brought to Virginia Beach Broadway plays and theatre of a high calibre. Among them will be Romeo Muller, Paullette San Marchi, Lisa Martins, Joe Bush and Lou Prinsell. Dennis McCarty has joined the company of players to take leading roles.

Slated for a special innovation this season will be a Broadway tryout. In addition, the 10-week schedule calls for production of Dream Girls; Kiss and Tell; Edward, My Son; Over Twenty-One; What Every Woman Knows; A Slight Case of Murder; Animal Kingdom; Ah! Wilderness; and Holiday House.

The proceeds of the card party will be used for a sound moving picture projector for the school.

Town Council Set To Ban Bicycles From Boardwalk

Bicycles will be banned from the boardwalk as constituting a danger to pedestrians, according to an ordinance passed on first reading by the Town Council on Monday night at its regular session.

The move came about when the body was considering a petition of Elmer Meeks to be relieved of the last two years of a five-year concession for the rental of bicycles. Mr. Meeks had agreed to pay slightly in excess of $5,000 annually for the five-year period for the sole rental concession. The council agreed to his petition after putting the ban on the use of bikes on the walkway.

He explained that he had been unable to operate at a profit, and that wartime shortages made it impossible for him to replace with modern models the bicycles which had rusted out and were not in condition to be used.

Mr. Meeks added that he believed that the use of bicycles on the boardwalk was hazardous to children and older people.

Sea Scouts to Attend 'Spring Rendezvous' At Camp Waters

Sea Scout Ship No. 63, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce, will attend the "Spring Rendezvous" at Camp Waters, on the James River. The rendezvous is being held for all Sea Scout and Explorer groups in the district. The object of this Scouting activity is to determine whether the boys can qualify for emergency service. If they qualify, they will then be able to turn out as a unit for any community or county disaster.

The boys will compete as crews, and must be able to pass the following requirements: climb an 18-foot rope in 25 seconds, run a mile in 7 1/2 minutes, a series of knots, personal first aid, plot a compass course, drill, get a message through, and tent pitching.

Even though they may pass on the above, they must also hold certain merit badges before they can be classified as an emergency unit.

Twenty young men from the Virginia Beach area will attend this Senior Scouting function.

All young men between the ages of 14 and 17 are invited to join this Senior Scout organization and take part in the program, which includes: cruising, camping, parties, dances, socials, community projects, emergency service, hobbies and handicrafts.

Meetings are held every Thursday evening at the Scout Building on 32nd Street.

Eastern Shore Chapel to Be Open For Garden Week

The Eastern Shore Chapel will participate in Garden Week April 26, 27 and 28 for the last time at its present site, according to Mrs. Frances R. Smith, of the Woman's Auxiliary of the historic chapel.

Special music has been provided for each of the three days the chapel will be open. On April 26, Mrs. George Aldridge, organist for Galilee Church, will give an organ recital; Mrs. Lance Gelling, organist at the Church of the Good Shepherd, will play on April 27; and on April 28, Mrs. Louis Cornick, organist at the chapel, will accompany Carroll Trant, violin soloist, in a recital. Time of the recitals for each of the 3 days is 1 p.m.

First Aid Courses Now Being Taught Civil Defense Groups

The emergency fire service of the Virginia Beach civilian defense organization this week began its first aid class, made up of volunteer and regular firemen under E. B. Bayne, chief of emergency fire services group. A total of 81 are attending classes instructed by Mrs. Oran Avert, the Red Cross instructor in first aid. The fire group has been regularly training and drilling since its organization.

At the present time a group of women from Virginia Beach and nearby are receiving instruction in another class that is in its third week of first aid training. Two classes of police recruits under F. Ruth Kistner Gives Demonstration on Flower Arrangement

The regular April meeting of the Virginia Beach Garden Club was given over to a day-long lecture and demonstration by Ruth Kistner, internationally known authority and writer on flower arrangements. The lecture was given at the Princess Anne Country Club and was attended by 70 women, members of the Virginia Beach Garden Club and guests from Norfolk and other garden clubs in the vicinity. The demonstration was divided into two sessions, morning and afternoon, with lunch served in the interim.

Mrs. Emmett Kyle, president of the Virginia Beach Garden Club, introduced Miss Kistner, giving as the keynote of the occasion Whittier's quotation used by Miss Kistner in her book: "Beauty Seen is Never Lost."

Miss Kistner said one must not think that flower arrangement was a difficult art; that, though there were many rules, one could first learn and then break them; and that simplicity was the outstanding keynote.

She discussed the conditioning of flowers, listed necessary equipment, and some general rules about composition.

Miss Kistner made 16 arrangements in every conceivable type of container and in varying manners, ranging from the modern through 18th century, and early American, back to the Japanese. Also included were a basket arrangement and vases suitable for churches.

Methodist Church To Observe 'New Members Night'

The Rev. Graham A. Carlton, pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, announces that his church will observe "New Members Night" Sunday, April 23, at the eight o'clock service.

This service is dedicated to the one hundred new members received into the church during Mr. Carlton's pastorate. Prior to the evening's sermon, brief words of welcome will be given by Harold Kellam, chairman of the board of stewards, George L. Aldridge, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. A response on behalf of the new members will be made by H. Walton White.

Topic for the evening's sermon is "We Thank God and Take Courage."

The music for the evening will be supported by a choir composed entirely of new members. Special music will include a solo by Mrs. Graham S. Carlton, with violin obligato by Mrs. Vera Ruggeri Hessel, concert violinist from Norfolk. Mrs. Hessel will also give a violin solo.

Following the service, a reception, arranged by the ladies of the Dawson Bible Class, will be held in the church social hall.

Dr. Cornell to Preach At Baptist Services

Dr. Raymond Cornell, of Kanawha, N. C., will preach at the Community House for the Baptists' congregation on Sunday, April 22, at 11 o'clock service. Dr. Ira D. B. Knight, the pastor, is away on vacation.

The Baptist congregation has sold its church and is holding services in the Community House. Services will continue to be held there until the church, which will be located at 35th and Holly Road, is built.

Gen. MacArthur Invited to Come to Virginia Beach

Virginia Beach has put in its bid to honor General Douglas MacArthur along with the rest of the nation.

On Wednesday morning, the mayor, W. F. Patton, and the president of the Chamber of Commerce, W. W. McClanren, Jr., dispatched a telegram asking the General and his family to come to Virginia Beach for an "indefinite" stay as guests of the town.

The telegram reads: "Arrangements have been made for your vacation and rest here in Virginia Beach at any time you may select. Our community would be indeed honored to have you and your family as its guests for an indefinite stay to enable you to relax after your long and distinguished service to your country. Your acceptance of this invitation is anxiously awaited."

The telegram was signed by both Mayor Patton and Mr. McClanren.

Chamber of Commerce officials said that one of the finer ocean front homes had been tentatively secured for the distinguished general and his family in the event that he accepts the town's invitation to be its guest.

Little Theatre Play, 'Heaven Can Wait,' Postponed Week

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre has postponed for one week its final play of the season, "Heaven Can Wait," the comedy-fantasy by Harry Segal, which was to have been presented at the Roland Theatre April 23 and 24.

It will be presented on April 30 and May 1 instead, and season tickets will be honored for the regularly scheduled Monday and Tuesday night. Reservations for single admissions may be made by calling Mrs. R. P. Trant, Jr., at Virginia Beach 42-J-12.

The usual policy of the theatre is to carry on with the show on schedule no matter what happens, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Billa, publicity chairman. "This particular play, however, has been plagued by a regular streak of the worst kind of luck," Mrs. Billa said, "and inasmuch as it is a rather difficult play, it was felt that the best possible thing to do from the standpoint of audience, actors and director, was to postpone it for one week."

Eugene Fleming, president of the Senior Class, thanked the members of the Junior Class and their sponsor, Miss Georgia Akers, for entertaining the class.

Supl. Cox introduced Judge Kellam, who addressed the group. J. R. Routten, principal of the school, gave the invocation and benediction.

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL STIRS CONTROVERSY

Water Main Contract For North Virginia Beach Also Included

The Virginia Beach Town Council at its Monday meeting passed on second reading contracts with Princess Anne County which (1) call for police and fire protection in the county adjacent to Virginia Beach, and (2) call for the payment of $13,447 involved in the laying of pipe line for the new 13-inch water main extending from Cavalier pumping station to 63rd Street, plus cost of material (already contracted for by the county).

The first contract involves the payment of $14,000 for fire protection in North Virginia Beach, Dade Heights, Day Colony, and Lankhorn Park, for $2,500 for maintenance of the North Virginia Beach water main, for $100 annually each for 70 fire hydrants, and for $2,500 for police protection within one mile of the town limits.

Controversy The passage of the first of the contracts on second reading touched off a controversy when Councilman Robert L. Simpson questioned the propriety of the first passage. His proposal that it be entered in the minutes that the special session had been called on April 5 as an executive session and later was varied into a special meeting without notification of absent members was voted down by Councilmen Gregory, Manson, Barr and Halstead; Mr. Simpson and Councilman W. W. McClanren voting "aye." Mr. Simpson also noted that the press was barred from the meeting.

Other Action A proposed ordinance forbidding the use of automatic devices in the dispensing of gasoline at filling stations was tabled. The ordinance was proposed by Chief of the Fire Department, R. E. Bayne, who termed it a safety precaution. The Town Manager, W. Russell Hatchett, was instructed to study the question.

E. H. Church and Mrs. Robert Goodman appeared before the body asking that a stop light be placed on 46th Street and Atlantic Avenue to slow traffic from excessive speeds on Atlantic Boulevard.

The Town Attorney, Roy Smith, was instructed to draw up the necessary papers dedicating as a public thoroughfare 20 feet on the western half of the right-of-way property recently purchased from the Norfolk Southern, from 24 1/2 Street to 40th Street.

Possibility of the purchase of a mechanical sweeper or rake to clean the sand beach both in the town and in North Virginia Beach, as proposed by the Junior Woman's Club, will be studied by the Town Manager and Town Engineer Carroll Boush. The Junior Women propose that the purchase should be made in conjunction with the county.

The Town Engineer was given the green light on his proposal to put up for sale the bulldozer recently purchased by the town at a cost of $15,000. Mr. Boush said that he believes that the continued use of the machines will not be effective in building up the sand beach except temporarily, and then only under favorable weather conditions. He added that he believed that the continued use of the machines will not be effective in building up the sand beach except temporarily, and then only under favorable weather conditions. He added that he believed that the original purchase price.

The Town Council will petition the Electoral Board, which meets in May, to create another polling place in the Virginia Beach precinct and appoint another registrar. In proposing the move, Town Manager Hatchett said that he

THE SECRET COUNCIL MEETING OF APRIL 5

The uncovering of the "executive session" of the Virginia Beach Town Council last April 5 which later became a "special session" at which time certain contracts with the county were passed on first reading raised some interesting questions for the citizens of this resort community.

For example: What about the legality of the action, in view of the fact that one of the councilmen, Robert L. Simpson, was not notified that the special session had suddenly come into being? There appears to be a State law to the effect that any action taken by the council must be taken only in a public, open meeting. (That this one was not is attested to by the fact that the press was excluded.) That the meeting was a closed one, not publicly announced, and without all of the members having been notified, would seem to preclude the possibility that action taken was legal action; hence, the contracts signed are not legally binding.

Moreover, from published statements of Vice Mayor H. E. Halstead the meeting was "an executive session all the way through" which even Mr. Halstead should realize is no place to do official business.

The problem is not the contents of the contracts, (although some doubt arises in the minds of citizens as to their propriety), but the high handed manner in which they were arrived at.

Good government cannot countenance such methods. Covenants arrived at secretly are not good.

The Contracts Themselves

Because of the manner in which the contracts were passed (after having been prepared by Commonwealth's Attorney Paul W. Ackles), the citizenry is all too naturally looking askance at their contents. This is a bitter lesson learned over the years by our people who have too long been at the mercy of a scheming and dictatorial county organization that has meddled uncessantly in the affairs of the town.

The News has not read the contracts; we have newspaper accounts of their contents gleaned from the reading of the minutes. We asked Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson about the particularly controversial clause in which the county promises to pay a sum of $2,500 annually for the continuation of police protection within a one-mile radius of the corporate limits of Virginia Beach. Mr. Johnson tells us that it is no more than has been done in the past; that now we are being paid for it.

Town Attorney Roy Smith says that he had several conferences with Mr. Ackles, that Mr. Ackles prepared the contracts, and that he (Smith) believes that they are advantageous to the town of Virginia Beach.

The Town Manager, at the recent regular meeting in which the contracts received final reading, said that he recommended strongly against the contracts—that the town should not take on this responsibility on a contractual basis "if we are at all in earnest about annexation." Legally (State law, that is) the town already has jurisdiction in emergencies within a mile of the corporate limits, he explained, but the signing of the contract makes us actually liable for all policing—and that in an area that includes night clubs much in the news in recent years as well as North Virginia Beach and its traffic problems, Bay Colony, and Seatack. Mr. McClanahan agreed that "we can't do it for $2,500."

We are inclined to agree with those gentlemen who spoke against the police clause of the contract. There appears more to it than meets the eye.

We can scarcely believe that the county, which, until recently did not even reimburse us for fire protection, has suddenly developed a case of soft heartedness and said, in effect, "We'll give them $2,500 for doing the same thing that they have been doing for free all these years. They are such nice guys."

We think that if the search were conducted astutely enough that the proverbial stranger in the woodpile would be "uncovered." It is just possible that it is a move to embarrass our Town Manager who has declared open war on the nip joints and whiskey dispensaries; it is also possible that his idea that it is an advance move to block the success of annexation proceedings may be the answer. (This could be done along these lines: Look, friends, we are furnishing you everything that the town of Virginia Beach can furnish you, and your taxes are less. Stay with us.)

Whatever the answer, whether it should be accepted on face value as the benevolent move of a benevolent county, or the move that came about after due deliberation by the head man in order to tighten his control, we can't say here.

We can think, though, can't we?

Cavalier Garden Club Plans Gloucester Tour; Huette Speaks

The Cavalier Garden Club met Monday afternoon at the Parish House of the Galilee Episcopal Church.

Plans for a tour to Gloucester during Garden Week were formulated, with Mrs. E. A. Darden as chairman. A group was appointed to attend the lecture given by Mrs. Kistner at the Princess Anne Country Club as follows: Mrs. Walton G. Saunders, Mrs. Gilmore Tibbroke, Mrs. John Adenbrook, Mrs. Earle Strole, Mrs. Rudolph Watson, Mrs. Arthur Kelsey, Mrs. Lindeman, and Mrs. Miss Elizabeth T. Bain.

Frederic Huette, of Norfolk, spoke on "Arboretums" and followed this with a short discussion on "Conservation." He stressed the fact that Tidewater offered the most effective climate for growing flowers, trees, and shrubs, and gave a brief picture of what could be accomplished in the formation of a metropolitan area of which Virginia Beach would be one link.

Tea followed, with Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Lindeman and Mrs. Stormont as hostesses. Awards for flower arrangements were presented to Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. William Darden, Mrs. Strole, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Tibbroke, Miss Elizabeth Bain and Miss Sue Brooke.

Kempville Band Entertains Patients At Kecoughtan

The Kempville High School Band, 69 strong, entertained 400 enthusiastic patients at Kecoughtan Veterans Administration Hospital on Sunday.

The concert was under the auspices of the Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Virginia Beach Post 7106, who transported the high school youngsters to the hospital in a chartered bus and seven automobiles. A truck hauled the band instruments.

James Cantwell directed the band in a versatile concert which featured classical, martial and dance music. Also on the program were numbers by the Drum Majorettes.

The Auxiliary reported that the reception of the band by the patients was exceptionally enthusiastic.

In addition to the concert, the Auxiliary donated 250 books to the hospital library.

Mrs. Lena Rich Ely

Mrs. Lena Rich Ely, mother of Mrs. Leo Billey and wife of Dr. A. R. Ely, died at the residence of Mrs. Billey early Wednesday morning.

Besides her husband and daughter, she is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Lucas Lipscomb, of Highland Springs, and Mrs. J. J. LePage, of Romulus, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Miller and Mrs. Mamie Forbes; three brothers, Carver, Glenwood and Herman S. Allen, all of Lovingsone, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Ely was a native of Nelson County and resided in Lynchburg and Farmville most of her life.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Frank A. Billey Funeral Home, Richmond, this afternoon (Friday), at 2 p.m. Interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Plans Take Shape For Second Annual Antique Show

Plans for the second annual Antique Show, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Galilee Episcopal Church, are rapidly being formulated and signers are busy working on the several committees.

Dates for the show are May 23, 24 and 25, and the doors will be open evenings on May 23 and 24. Exhibits will be entirely different from last year's, but promise to rival the first annual attraction in charm and authenticity, according to the Auxiliary. Articles as tiny as great-grandmother's dainty earrings and unusual snuff boxes will be on display as well as rooms completely furnished.

In the quaint early American kitchen, an added attraction this year, a Negro mammy will be on duty at all times. Hostesses for each day of the show will be dressed in early Colonial costumes.

Luncheon will be served daily at a slight additional cost, which is a particularly interesting feature to those coming from a distance.

Mrs. Robert Barco is ticket chairman.

A Man's Slant on Water Heating!

"I'm one of those 22,620,000 American husbands who help with the dishes—so I know that really HOT water and lots of it—is essential in the kitchen. But most of all, I like a long, relaxing bath after a hard day's work. Even on laundry day—there's plenty of HOT-WATER-BY-WIRE left for my soaking!"

"When you've got kids—you've got to think about safety. There's never a minute's worry about an ELECTRIC water heater—the exterior is always cool to the touch, there are no flames or fumes. It's safe enough to put right in the nursery—if we wanted to! Hot-Water-By-Wire is as safe as it is carefree!"

"I like the saving my fuel bills show now that 20% of the fuel we buy doesn't have to go for water heating, like it used to when the furnace coils did the job. Now we get all the hot water we want, on VEPCO's low off-peak rate of 1c per kilowatt hour—and there's no furnace-out-in-the-summer-time problem!"

"I haven't got time to wait around for hot water in the morning when the rest of the family beats me to the bathroom—and I haven't got time to play nuremald to a temperamental water heater. An ELECTRIC water heater solves both problems—there's enough hot water all the time, and it's so AUTOMATIC I can forget it's in the house!"

Garden Club Hears Talk on Hollies By Mrs. Thacher

The Princess Anne Garden Club this week heard Mrs. Alfred H. Thacher, of South Orange, N. J., discuss hollies and their culture. Known nationally as an authority on hollies, Mrs. Thacher is past Horticultural chairman of the Garden Club of America.

The occasion was the club's annual oyster roast, which was held at Seabrook Farm on the Lynnhaven River, home of the Misses Hill.

Mrs. Thacher declared that the Tidewater area is particularly good for the culture of hollies.

furnishing them the low elevation, the ferns and mistle in which they thrive. Growth is slow when the plant is young and when it is very old, Mrs. Thacher warned, but during its middle years it grows rapidly and vigorously. Spraying is seldom necessary, since very few diseases attack holly, of which there are numerous varieties. If a female holly does not bear berries, according to Mrs. Thacher, there is a commercial product, Fruitone, which may be applied with satisfying results.

A healthy plant, she said, has glistening and thick leaves. Fine straw is good to cover the base of the plant when needed. A fertilizer of one-half tobacco dust and one-half cotton seed meal is the best to use on hollies, she asserted.

Martha Hunter Bell, Robert B. N. Francis Married Saturday

The marriage of Miss Martha Hunter Bell, daughter of Mr. William Hunter Bell, of Virginia Beach, and the late Mr. Bell, to Robert Beverley Nash Francis, son of Mrs. Walker Francis, of Washington, formerly of Portsmouth, and Camillus Nash Francis, of Norfolk, took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Eastern Shore Chapel, Princess Anne County. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. George F. Gunn, Bishop of the Southern Diocese of Virginia, in the presence of the immediate families and out-of-town guests. The chapel was arranged with lilies, magnolia leaves and lighted candles, and Mrs. Louis Cornick, organist, played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Robert Edwards Garris. She wore a wedding gown of camellia satin, fashioned with square neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and full skirt forming a cathedral train. Her full length veil of illusion fell from a cap of beehive rosepoint lace and orange blossoms, and she carried a crescent bouquet of gardenias and white hydrangeas.

Mrs. Robert Edwards Garris, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of hyacinth blue net over matching tulle, made with full ballerina skirt, soft draped bodice and matching stole. She wore a half-hat of matching blue and carried a crescent bouquet of pink carnations and blue hydrangeas.

Bozz And The Off-Key Sermones

Reverend Lester of the church out on Highbury Road couldn't his Young People's Choir late Thursday afternoon—after high school basketball practice lets out.

Buzz Ellis pastored cows next to that church. Around 5 o'clock they used to make a lot of racket about wanting to go home. That made it kind of rough on the choir.

When Buzz learned what was going on he said to Reverend Lester: "I never yet heard of a cow that could moo on key. So, I'll just give 'em in a little earlier..." This started me to thinking. Buzz doesn't go to that church. And he's so tone-deaf he couldn't carry a tune in a bucket!

From where I sit, you might say that Buzz didn't have much in common with those singers. But he doesn't divide folks into groups he's "with" or "against." Your politics, your personal preferences—of the fact that you like a moderate glass of beer—mean nothing either way to Buzz. He's a real neighbor to everybody!

BE PREPARED

April is Railroad Month in the National Cub Scout Program.

During this month, over 800,000 Cub Scouts ... 100,000 Den Leaders ... and more than a million parents and other adults interested in the Cub Scout program, will place special emphasis on an earlier and a better understanding of American railroads—how they operate, how they serve the people in peace and war.

Cub Scouts, as future Boy Scouts, are trained for fulfillment of Scouting's famous motto—BE PREPARED. An understanding of the indispensable service performed by American railroads is of major importance in their preparation for the responsibilities of adult citizenship which they will inherit ... for the railroads of America are indeed the lifeline of America.

Today, BE PREPARED is vital for all of us. The railroads themselves are and always have been among the first to accept this challenge ... to BE PREPARED to serve, no matter what demands are placed upon them in peacetime or in time of emergency. The Norfolk and Western alone has spent and authorized more than $157,000,000 since World War II for improvements all over the railroad ... to BE PREPARED.

The nation is proud of its Cub Scouts and the splendid things they stand for. The Norfolk and Western salutes them for Railroad Month and their other excellent programs, which are training them to grow up as more capable leaders and finer American citizens.

Home Improvement Best Investment for Future, Says Standing

"Spend for your home first—it's your only real security." With this slogan, Princes Anne Lumber Company is inaugurating a campaign of home repair and improvement, calculated to maintain and increase local property values, according to James J. Standing, president.

The local campaign is part of a nation-wide campaign being sponsored by Building Supply News and its companion publication, Practical Builder, leading publications in the building industry.

"Because of the importance of the home," Mr. Standing says, "to the individual family, the community, the state and the nation, it pays every home owner to keep his home in good repair. Doing so not only makes a more comfortable and pleasant place to live, but keeps up the value of the home. And in the case of remodeling and other home improvement, it definitely and un-

Board of Supervisors Approves Two Contracts with Town Over Objections Voiced by Hatchett

Fire Departments Get Extra Funds; Other Acts Taken Monday

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, in regular session on Monday, approved two contracts with the Town of Virginia Beach. The first called for the expenditure of $13,477 for labor and supervision for the laying of a 12-inch water main from the northern limits of the town to 63rd Street, to replace the out-dated and inadequate 8-inch pipe now in use; the second called for payment to the town of $14,000 for fire protection in areas surrounding Virginia Beach, $7,000 for the upkeep of 70 fire hydrants in those areas, and $2,500 for policing an area 1 mile surrounding the town.

Supervisor Walter Maher said that these funds come from the controversial sum brought in by the 60-cent general fund tax paid by Virginia Beach. It has been the contention of Beach officials that because the town's real estate valuation for tax purposes is double that of the balance of the county, that some reimbursement should be made to the town. It is estimated that the general fund of the county will be richer by approximately $60,000 this year because of that doubled assessment.

In discussing the contracts, Clerk of the Court William F. Higgins asked the supervisors whether the money belongs to the Town of Virginia Beach or to the general fund of the county. If the latter, he maintained, it is discriminatory to pay out from the general fund for improvements in one area only. He pointed to the fact that certain areas have no drinking water supply at all, and that "Ocean Park people have to haul their drinking water." Moreover, he declared, it is unfair for the county to pay for water supply to North Virginia Beach residents, while other sections have to set up sanitation districts and be taxed for the service.

The supervisors heard Town Manager Russell Hatchett protest the incorporation of the clause calling for police protection in the 1-mile adjoining area. Mr. Hatchett said that with the total area of that section more than the total area of the town, and with almost the same population, the town could not afford to contract to supply police service for as little as $2,500.

Volunteer Fire Departments
Each of the seven volunteer fire departments in the county will receive from the general fund $60 monthly in addition to the $100 they now receive for upkeep of equipment and other expenses. In addition, the Ocean Park Volunteers will receive still another $50 monthly from the Kempsville Improvement Fund for upkeep and expenses of the ambulance which they maintain for use of the entire county. Appearing before the board in connection with the firemen's petition for financial assistance were: E. F. Caldwell, Ocean Park Fire Department; Run Lofton, Chesapeake Beach; Floyd Deary, Loudon Bridge; W. B. Bristol, Davis Corner; and Aaron Parsons, Seaside.

Maple Hall School
A petition, signed by 73 residents of the Maple Hall section, Virginia Beach Boulevard and Water Works Road, asking for a zoning ordinance, was passed on favorably by the board. The ordinance calls for all lots hereafter sold to be at least 100 by 100 feet in size; no more than one lot to a lot except where now provided for; no temporary buildings to be erected; no trailer living quarters; no hog farms; no residential use; and other provisions.

Ocean View Sanitary District
The board will request the City of Norfolk to extend and connect the water line in that Ocean View section (Continued on Page Eight)

Child Labor on Farms Subject to Wage-Hour Law

Employment of children under 16 years of age for work in the strawberry, spinach, bean, tomato and potato fields or for other agricultural work, if the crops are shipped either directly or indirectly out of the state, is subject to the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (Wage and Hour Law), it was pointed out by William M. Eaves, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division.

Mr. Eaves explained that the law sets no limit for the agricultural employment of children if the employment is after school hours in the district, or if the children are employed by their parents or their parent's farm. The law furthermore exempts children in agricultural employment from its minimum wage and overtime provisions.

Mr. Eaves said that prospective employers of children of doubtful age could protect themselves from unwitting violation of the law by having on file a proof-of-age certificate for each employed child. Such certificates can be obtained by the prospective employer from a local school official.

"The law as amended, effective January 25, 1950," he said, "prohibits the employment of children under 16 years of age in interstate agriculture during the hours that school is in session in the school district in which they live. It applies equally to resident as well as to migratory child labor."

Seafood Conference To Be Held May 4 at Gloucester C. H.

The conservation, replenishment, production and marketing of oysters, fish, clams and other seafood will be the subject matter of a public hearing which will be held by an interim study committee in Gloucester Court House May 4, at 7:30 p.m. The hearing will be held by the study committee of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council studying seafood.

The committee held a public hearing in Newport News on April 20 and heard many suggestions as to what should be done to increase the supply of seafood. Some recommendations that the trawling should be curtailed, others stated that the size of the mesh in nets should be increased; changes in the law applicable to clams, and other matters were presented to the committee. In view of the many changes which were proposed, the committee hopes that others will come forward and present their opinions on these matters.

Hatchett's Resignation As Town Manager Accepted; Answers Foes

Little Theatre to Present Final Play Monday-Tuesday

Season to End With "Heaven Can Wait," A Comedy-Fantasy

By Elizabeth Sills
"Heaven Can Wait," a comedy-fantasy by Harry Segall, will be presented by the Virginia Beach Little Theatre at the Roland Theatre Monday and Tuesday, April 30 and May 1, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Marmey. The set is by Hazel Tucker, decorated by Martha Hofheimer, Ann Penington and Dorothy White.

The play, from which the popular movie "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" was adapted, tells the story of Joe Penfield, a nice clean young priest whose soul is snatched from a crashing airplane by a solicitous messenger from Heaven in an effort to spare him the agony of crashing. The records, however, show that he was extremely premature, and Joe is slated to live another fifty years. He can't get back into his body, because Max Levene, his manager, has had it created, so he and Mr. Jordan, the Heavenly deputy, and Messenger 7013, set out to find him another one, which, in Joe's own words must be "in the pink." These three invisible characters lead the rest of the cast through three acts of delightful entertainment. This is a play that is diversely different.

Bob Addenbrook plays Joe; Robert M. Wainwright, Mr. Jordan; Norman Roblee, Messenger 7013; Nancy Martin Stetson, Julia Farnsworth; Walter E. Thrift, II, Tony Abbott; James Allen, Jr., Max Levene; Barbara Trank, Delle Louie; Dorothy Bolton, Sue; Elizabeth Sills, Mrs. Ames; Erna Rice, Ann; Edgar Parker and Buddy Glynn, Messengers; Joseph LaGiglia, Workman; Allen Tyler, Williams; Richard T. Munford, Lefty; and Frank Israel, Doctor.

All season ticket holders are reminded at this time that they are voting members of the Little Theatre, and will receive in their program a notice of the annual meeting to be held May 15. They are requested to bring with them to "Heaven Can Wait" their suggestions for the board of directors. These suggestions will be carefully considered by the nominating committee.

Tickets may be had by calling Virginia Beach 42-3-12, or at the box office at the Roland Theatre.

Overflow Crowd At Council Session Expresses Sentiments

Virginia Beach took the spotlight this week in the county's political and governmental news with the resignation of W. Russell Hatchett as town manager after six months in office, and the appointment of W. F. Patton, mayor, temporarily to fulfill administrative duties of the managership.

The open break between the then town manager and the council last Friday was quickly followed by a bill of particulars signed by Councilmen Henry Gregory, R. G. Barr, Jr., H. E. Halstead, and George C. Manson, in a Norfolk newspaper, charging Mr. Hatchett with "political activity," taking credit themselves for issuing the order closing illegal clubs, declaring that Mr. Hatchett was absent frequently from his office, and charging him with an effort to abandon the high school project.

After charging the majority councilmen with subservience to a power "not interested in Virginia Beach," and praising the sincerity and interest of Councilmen R. L. Simpson and W. W. McLanahan, Mr. Hatchett tendered his resignation verbally to the mayor at the Friday night meeting when he said: "Whenever you can get a quorum together, I will offer my resignation." His resignation was accepted at a specially called council meeting on Tuesday night.

A crowd of more than 500 people showed up for the stormy meeting, which was transferred from town hall to the auditorium of the Willoughby T. Cooke School at the suggestion of Councilman McLanahan in order that the townpeople might be seated.

Applause greeted Mr. Hatchett; boos and shouts from the floor frequently interrupted remarks of the majority councilmen. When Mr. Hatchett was denied the floor before action was taken on Councilman Gregory's motion to accept his resignation "as tendered in the press," shouts from the floor of "Let the man talk." "Let us hear him" drowned out the activity of the council members on the stage of the auditorium.

A roll call vote showed Councilmen Barr, Gregory, Halstead and Manson for acceptance of the resignation; Councilmen Simpson and McLanahan, against; Mayor Patton, not voting.

Mr. Hatchett answered the public charges made against him by the four councilmen, taking each up in turn.

"I had little enough sense to think that I could do the job when I took it," he said of his appointment as town manager, and stepping back and jutting forth his chin, he added in ringing tones, "and I still think I can do it."

"When I took this job," he said, "I made it clear to the council that the only way I could help them politically would be to do a good job and to pass the glory on to them."

"A MESSAGE FROM THE PEOPLE TO A BUNCH OF STOOGES"

A week of governmental turmoil in Virginia Beach was climaxed on Tuesday night at a special council meeting by the acceptance of the resignation of W. Russell Hatchett as town manager and the appointment of W. F. Patton, the mayor, to assume administrative duties of the management.

The affair brought forth in startling clarity the desire of the majority faction of the town council to subvert the interests of the town to the interests of a machine that has little or no interest in the affairs of the town except as it profits the machine itself.

It climaxed a long series of acts of arrogant and insulting demagoguery—arrogant, because the best interests of the town are not consulted; insulting, because in its usual high-handed manner the machine, in the persons of its tools, the Messrs. Manson, Gregory, Barr and Hatchett, slapped the face, in effect, of anyone who dared question its actions.

Once again we see the spectacle of the debasement of the good of the town for the offensive purposes of a power-hungry machine—a machine which functions only because its satellites are so fear-ridden or so greedy that they will only mouth the dictates of the machine.

Once again we see thrown into the scrap heap all the good that has been accomplished by a man who dared defy them. Once again we will have to see started over in their first steps the improvements and reforms that must be made before we can hope to progress—the schools, the erosion, the advertising, annexation, the many problems that face our community.

Russell Hatchett made a good town manager—his efforts for the community good were great and largely successful. During his six-month tenure of office he faced Virginia Beach in the right direction for progress.

Also, he could not work under the conditions set forth by the machine—absolute obedience to its dictates, absolute allegiance to it and its alone.

The sad truth is that Virginia Beach is doomed to stay in an unprogressive, backward state until at last are severed the ties of misplaced allegiance to a political machine that has never at any time been interested in the real welfare and real progress of the town.

Mr. Hatchett's parting remark at the conclusion of his reply to the majority's accusations which appeared in Sunday's paper, is one which should be taken up by the people of Virginia Beach who would throw off the yoke imposed upon us by this heartless machine—let us too send a "message from the people to a bunch of stooges."

MORE ABOUT THE POLICE CONTRACT

The County Board of Supervisors on Monday approved their contract with the Town of Virginia Beach (originally signed in that controversial closed session) whereby the county gives to the town some $24,000 for fire protection in the areas surrounding the Beach, $7,000 for upkeep of 70 fire hydrants, and $2,500 for policing an area one-mile around the town.

Supervisor Walter Maher says that this money comes from surplus paid into the general fund of the county by reason of the fact that the townspeople pay 60 cents per hundred dollars on a doubled real estate valuation for tax purposes. The county says that this is the only way that the town can be reimbursed.

We respectfully submit that this is a heck of a way to give us back even so small a portion of that money (payment to the general fund from the town amounts to approximately $60,000 this year). The town's budget for policing within the town limits runs between $50,000 and $60,000 annually. Now we have contracted to police an area as large again as the town's present area, populated by approximately the same number of people, for $2,500. Not what you would call a bargain, exactly.

Moreover, located within that county area surrounding the town are some of the places that have in the past, and without a doubt will again in the future cause the police more headaches than all the rest of their duties put together.

Those county boys sure are good to us, aren't they?

HERE WE GO AGAIN BOYS

On the subject of Russell Hatchett's resignation and the controversial $2,500 police contract, we were interested to note that two days after he left office the following events took place:

Pine Point Club opened for the season;

From the most reliable of sources we learn that the ticker (we can't believe that it is a stock ticker) was moved into the alleged boogie establishment at 227 17th Street (upstairs over Kellam-Eaton Insurance Company, 228 17th Street);

The 2 O'Clock Club, Atlantic near 15th Street, was reportedly open;

So-Joe's, on Route 60, was ablaze with light and activity; The old Cabana Club, upstairs on the corner of 17th and Atlantic, was being cleaned up and redecorated under the watchful eye of a Norfolk gentleman—one Freddie Chinchello—reputedly a well-known figure in Norfolk circles.

(Tip for anyone interested—the old Melody Inn on 31st Street still has a few rent sign up.)

Coincidence, sure. Occurrence of events simultaneously, by chance—huh?

DOES PACIFIC AVENUE STOP AT FORTIETH STREET?
Virginia Beach, Virginia
April 19, 1951

Dear Editor:
Several times lately I have read in the Norfolk papers items under the Virginia Beach section and several of them referred to Pacific Avenue and always stopped at Fortieth Street. Why is this? Does Pacific Avenue stop at Fortieth Street?

For sometime there has been a fence part of the way across Pacific Avenue at Fortieth Street and yesterday a fence was erected across the old Norfolk Southern Railway right of way, making a barricade all the way across the Avenue at Fortieth Street. At this writing the new fence has not been painted.

A great deal of work is being done on the other side of the fence.

Should not the City Manager, the Council and the City Engineer take immediate action and see that the entire fence is removed immediately?

Isn't there some chance of the property being seized by taking advantage of the Squatter's Law?

Safe Bicycling Practices Urged By AAA Club

"To know and use rules of the road is essential to the safety of all bicycle drivers," said John E. Day, vice president, in announcing that local schools are being provided with posters and lesson guides by the Tidewater Automobile Association in cooperation with the American Automobile Association, to teach children safe bicycling practices.

"One of the important rules which is often neglected with given special emphasis in the lessons, that is, when riding at night be sure the bicycle is equipped with a rear light or reflector," Mr. Day said.

"Local teachers also will instruct children in bicycle safety rules, including observance of all traffic rules (signals, stop signs, one-way streets), keeping to the right and riding in a straight line with traffic, riding single file, riding one on a bike, slowing down at all street intersections and looking both ways, carrying packages in a basket, and riding under their own power (never hitchhiking onto vehicles)," Mr. Day added.

The poster which will be used for the "Know All Bicycling Rules and Use Them" campaign in Virginia schools is one of the ten first-prize winners in the Sixth National Safety Poster Contest, conducted by the AAA and affiliated Automobile Clubs, and was drawn by Irene E. Tymoczynski, Buffalo Riverside High School, of Buffalo, N. Y.

and William Ernest Holt, of Lynchburg.

Funeral services were conducted at the Ewell and Williamson Funeral Home Wednesday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Walter F. MacGowan, pastor of the First Christian Church. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Thousands of prisoners who voluntarily contracted malaria were treated with more than 15,000 drugs. Good Housekeeping magazine reports that primaquine, used in combination with quinine, was four times as effective as other drugs tested. It also seems less toxic than the others.

Hundreds Accused of Vote Selling in Princess Anne

How quick we are to censure public officials for accepting bribes or betraying the trust that goes with the office! Not only are they subject to censure but to removal from office and, in some instances, imprisonment.

All is taken care of, for the public official is taken to task by law. But what of the 8 out of 10 people in Princess Anne County who betray their sacred right to vote by selling their honor for privilege. Yes, we said SOLD—for hundreds of our citizens sold their vote last election, and we charge that many more will sell them again—for CASH! Are you, or will you be one of them this year? Have you ever SOLD your VOTE? We charge again that 8 out of 10 have and they have only received a paltry $1.50 cash.

The citizen who does not pay his poll tax, register and vote, SOLDS HIS VOTE for $1.50, just as surely as though he received that sum from some venal politician. He received $1.50 for NOT voting! He gained $1.50 for NOT doing his duty!

If you SOLD OUT your community in times past for $1.50 per year you have a chance to right yourself before election day. MAY 5th is the deadline for payment of poll taxes—take it upon yourself to FIND OUT your status. It cannot cost but $4.98 if you have never paid any poll taxes.

Let's change the headlines to read—"100% PARTICIPATION AT THE POLLS!"

One in eight families served by VEPCO now enjoys "HOT-WATER-BY-WIRE!" During 1950 alone, 14,249 more families chose ELECTRIC water heating over older methods—more NEW users in one year than there were TOTAL users just five years ago! Every user is a booster for thrifty, safe, automatic Hot-Water-By-Wire!

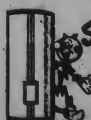

Economy of operation is one reason users are boosters for ELECTRIC water heating! You get luxury-like service at piggy-bank cost . . . because separately metered electric water heaters earn VEPCO's low off-peak rate of 1c per kilowatt hour—a lot cheaper than the 20¢ extra fuel you'd use if furnace coils had to do the job!

Automatic service—around the clock, around the corner, with NO attention needed—that's another reason the switch is to ELECTRIC water heating! Once the water heater is installed, you can forget it . . . there's nothing to turn on or off except the hot water tap. An electric water heater never says "Wait a minute," or "Come, tend to me!"

Hot-Water-By-Wire is as safe and clean as electric light. No flames, no fumes . . . no flots, vents or chimneys. And—no long, tangled hot water pipes—an automatic electric water heater can be installed anywhere in the house, with minimum piping and wiring. (Even less wiring if your home is already wired for an electric range!)

Carl Lie Chosen Apple Blossom Festival Queen

Carl Lie, 14-year-old blonde daughter of the Secretary-General of the United Nations, Tryve Lie, will be queen of the twenty-fourth annual Richmond Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va., on May 3 and 4.

Announcement of the Norwegian-born beauty's participation in the world's most famous spring-time extravaganza was made by Mrs. Edward W. Hurr, director of the Festival's queen and lay court.

Miss Lie will receive the scepter from Anne Carleton Hurler, daughter of Mrs. Allen Barkley.

Miss Hurler, who played as queen of the 1933 celebration in the "Apple Capital," was crowned by her step-father, the vice-president of the United States.

Carl Lie, who is 24, was born in Oslo, Norway. She came to America with her mother and her internationally renowned father, when he was named Secretary-General of the United Nations in 1936.

Call for Increased Production of Corn Made by State PMA Head

The 1934 corn crop is getting off to an uncertain start. At least that's the fact according to a report from the Production and Marketing Administration which indicates that growers intend to plant only 95 per cent of the corn acreage guide.

National and State acreage guides were established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture earlier this year to insure sufficient feed grains for livestock production. Except for corn, most of Virginia's grain acreage was already seeded at that time.

The production guide for corn in Virginia is 1,140,000 acres, and the PMA report shows that farmers intend to plant 1,128,000 acres, or 99 per cent of the guide.

R. H. Bridgforth, State Production and Marketing Administration chairman, in his capacity as head of the State Agricultural Mobilization Committee, asks Virginia farmers not only to reach, but to exceed the State acreage. He also asks for increased yields.

In most sections of the State, there is a certain amount of idle crop land suitable for corn without disturbing pasture or other crops, Mr. Bridgforth said. As for increasing yields, he quoted the recommendation of the Extension Service at VPI, listing the following five steps:

1. Use a hybrid adapted to your county.
2. Prepare a good seedbed and plant corn about an inch deep.
3. Be sure the soil has enough nitrogen, phosphate and potash, the exact amount depending on soil fertility, whether manured, and whether a legume was turned under. For average soils, the use of 800 to 900 pounds of a complete fertilizer, as recommended by your county agent, and 60 to 80 pounds of nitrogen should pro-

- duce 75 to 100 bushels of corn.
4. Plant corn for a final stand of 12,000 to 16,000 stalks per acre.
5. Cultivate shallow.

Mr. Bridgforth pointed out that despite a large crop last year, a record for Virginia, there is nevertheless need for still more this year. He explained that livestock numbers are increasing rapidly due to the high demand for meat brought about partly by the national emergency. This demand has forced the nation to draw heavily on our reserve corn supply. It is estimated that reserve corn stock on October 1, 1931, the beginning of the marketing year, will be one third less than a year ago.

For this reason, he said that a 1931 crop national acreage guide of 90,000,000 acres has been set. That is 4,000,000 more than was planted in 1930.

Virginia was also asked to produce more soybeans for beans. According to March planting intentions, State farmers will probably plant 140,000 acres of soybeans. That would be 6 per cent more than the 1931 guide of 140,000, and well above the 133,000 acres planted last year.

Now that spring is here, it's time to start thinking about storing winter woollens. As soon as the weather becomes milder, begin with your heaviest woollens, and put them away, several at a time. Clothing specialists at V. P. I. say not to put away woollens unless they are absolutely clean and free from moths. Either dry-clean your woollens, or wash them in mild, lukewarm soapsuds. This will kill all stages of moth life.

Whooping Cough Not Big Killer Now As In Past

Whooping Cough, which once took many children's lives every year, is being brought under control by modern medicine.

In 1915, about 15,000 people in this country, mostly children, died from this virus-caused disease. In 1950, an estimated 1,200 people died, according to latest insurance company statistics.

This dramatic decrease in the mortality rate was brought about through use of new drugs for prevention and treatment. Whooping cough occurs most often in children under five years of age and at one time 25 per cent of infants under six months who contracted the disease died. The American Public Health Association recommends immunization between the third and sixth months of life.

All children are exposed to whooping cough. Once contracted, this disease can have complications which affect the future health of the child. Most common complications are severe inflammation of the middle ear, kidney disease, toxic brain complications, abscess formation, and bronchopneumonia.

Until recently, medication did little to relieve the choking spasms which accompany the disease. However, this is changing. Recent observation of cases of whooping cough treated with the antibiotic drug aureomycin, showed that it greatly reduced the number and severity of coughing spells, as compared to a group not given the drug. In the laboratory, aureomycin is deadly against the germ of whooping cough. In other clinical tests, aureomycin indicated that it will decrease the severity and duration of the illness. Patients receiving the antibiotic showed immediate and steady improvement.

Restaurants Get New OPS Regulations; No Price Rise Expected

Restaurant prices are not expected to rise as the result of the new regulation, Ceiling Price Regulation Eleven, which supersedes the General Price Regulation in the restaurant field, W. F. Bailey, regional director for the area, which includes Virginia, said today.

Two factors, competition and OPS regulations, will keep operators from jumping their menu prices to levels beyond the means of the moderate income group, price officials believe.

Director Bailey points out that "eating out" is generally a luxury for people who are saddled with rising costs all along the line, and therefore it is one of the most easily dropped items from the family budget.

The new regulation gives the restaurant operator an opportunity to increase his menu prices in accordance with the rising costs of food—which is his principal item of expense.

As the OPS sees it, the price of food to the restaurant operator has been advancing, but his menu prices are strictly limited under the general ceiling price regulation. In order to ease this load, the OPS has amended its general ceiling price regulation as it pertains to restaurants.

Ceiling Price Regulation Eleven does not permit restaurants to establish prices which reflect a markup any higher than the markup used during the calendar year 1949, or the pre-Korean 12-month period between July 1, 1949 and June 30, 1950.

VPI Warns Against Unethical Termite Control Operators

A warning to home owners against fraudulent termite exterminators has been given by V. P. I. Mr. Amos says that already this spring there have been several reports of "questionable practices" in the termite extermination business.

There are many reliable operators in Virginia, Mr. Amos says, and it pays to check on the operator you intend to hire.

Termites work slowly, but persistently, and you have time to check the exterminator's reputation before you hire him. A delay of a few weeks, or even months, will make little difference.

Mr. Amos says the Extension Service is cooperating with the Virginia State Pest Control Operators' Association, and Better Business' Bureau, regarding the reliability of persons who solicit work in termite control. If you will contact any one of the three organizations, they will be glad to help.

Here are some tips on how you can gauge the reliability of persons offering termite control service:

If you are told that termites will soon ruin or cause your house to collapse, you can definitely list the firm as questionable. Firms which charge according to the amount of chemical used likewise are questionable. Any good termite operator can estimate the cost just as a carpenter can estimate the cost of a repair job. A reliable pest control operator should have an established headquarters and a dependable local reputation. Investigate this qualification. Do not depend on guarantees. Most of them are worthless. Rather, depend on the reputation of the operator. Do not consider price the criterion of a good job.

Tennis Team Wins

The Oceana Tennis Team brought honors to their Alma Mater last Tuesday when they clashed with Norfolk Academy at the Fergus Reid Court in Norfolk. The win, however, was an extremely close fight; the contest was won in the last match by Jimmy Bradt and Charlie Parrington. Their match had gone to set and match point about five times before they finally won 4 to 3. Oceana came from behind to win the entire match 11 to 6.

Winners in the singles were Edward Wright, No. 2; Charlie Parrington, No. 4; and Jimmy Bradt, No. 5.

The newly organized tennis team is coached by Billy Tarrh.

Junior Class News

Recently a representative from Josten's came to Oceana and talked to the Juniors about their class rings. By unanimous vote, the Juniors decided to order their rings from Josten's.

The Junior Class has held several meetings recently for the purpose of planning the Junior Senior Banquet. They have arranged plans to meet where the banquet may be held. The Juniors may expect their invitations in a few days.

Typing Student Wins Honor

Bessie Melvin, a second-year typing student, recently received the silver Competent Typist pen and certificate for achieving a speed of sixty-one words per minute in an International Gross CT test.

Another second-year typing student, Doris Miller, received a certificate.

Several first year students received certificates: Mae Coleman, Allen Culverhouse, Betty Sue Brown, Doris Harcum, and Perry Chambers.

The awards were received from the Gregg Awards Department.

Home Ec Questionnaire

One of the home economics classes is taking a poll on questions regarding dating. A form of character traits was made out by the group. This list was mimeographed and given out to various students and teachers. The student then places a number by each trait in the order of the worth he places on that particular trait as a good date. Only one conclusion has been reached so far. Out of thirty-six girls participating in one group, there were twenty-three that picked "drinking" as their No. 1 dislike in a date. The group initiating this research are sophomores and juniors.

Skating Party

The Oceana 4-H Club went on a skating party recently in Norfolk. Approximately 55 members went, with about 25 going to the Mercury Rink. Mrs. Geraldine Sandridge, school sponsor, Miss Jane Craig, home demonstration agent, and Miss Frances Farley, faculty member, were chaperones.

Hollywood Newcomer Stars Opposite Cagney and Peck

No one is more appreciative than blonde, blue-eyed Barbara Payton herself that she got the break of her career by playing a coveted role opposite James Cagney in "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye."

A capable actress, she justly earned the promise of her abilities and was soon engaged by the female lead opposite Gregory Peck in "Only The Valiant," screen version of the famed Charles Marquess Warren novel, which begins its local debut on May 2 at the Beach Theatre, running four days.

The questions, which were chosen from a group of suggestions made by the entire student body, pertained to relationships between teacher and pupil, teacher and parent, pupil and parent, etc., as well as teen-age habits, good and bad.

The four parents were: Mrs. Savage, a housewife and community leader; Mrs. Garrett, a housewife and president of the Oceana P.T.A.; Mr. Jackson, counselor for the youth department of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church; and Mr. McClanahan, president of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce and member of the Town Council.

The students who participated in this discussion were Nita Aldridge, Nancy Taylor, Edward Wright and Carolyn Meachum. Skitay Hull, president of the student body, acted as moderator.

Students Watch Television

Television came to Oceana High School on Thursday, April 19, through the courtesy of Shelly's Appliance and Music Corporation. The high school watched the parade in Washington and heard Gen. Douglas MacArthur's speech. The students express their appreciation to Mrs. Shelly and her associates.

The Literary Club had a skating party Tuesday, April 24.

Edward Wright and Nita Aldridge are competing in the State Forensic Contest in Charlottesville, Va.

for a screen test which subsequently led to her appearance in several westerns. It wasn't until Barbara appeared opposite Lloyd Bridges in "Trapped" that William Cagney noticed her and signed the actress for "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye."

Now in "Only The Valiant," the latest William Cagney production for Warner Bros. distribution, she portrays the daughter of a cavalier who must contend her love for officer Gregory Peck because she believes that he has sent to his death a romantic competitor, played by Cag Young.

Navy Lengthens Training Period For New Recruits

Effective at once, Chief Petty Officer Julian A. Forbes, recruiter in charge of the local U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, announces that all new recruits for the Navy are to receive an 11-week training period.

This training period, commonly called "boot" training, is that period of training that the new sailor receives and serves as his introduction to Navy customs, drills, and general background.

Naval Training Centers are now located at Great Lakes, Illinois; San Diego, California; Newport, Rhode Island; and Bainbridge, Maryland.

Previously, due to the need for additional numbers of men to man the ships and planes of the expanding Navy since last June and the limitations of training centers, it had been necessary to "speed-up" the training of new recruits and cut the period of recruit training down to nine weeks.

Local Selective Service Boards Warn Delinquents

Youths Reaching Eighteen Years of Age Must Register

Local boards in Virginia and throughout the country are posting in their offices rosters of selective service law delinquents, it was revealed by State Headquarters for Selective Service this week.

The local board says that there are no delinquent cases on the Princess Anne County books at the present time.

"A delinquent" is a person required to be registered under the selective law who fails or neglects to perform any duty required of him under the provisions of the Selective Service Law. That definition is a direct quote from Selective Service regulations, according to Mrs. Vivian McChanan, clerk of Princess Anne County Local Board 100.

Any male person residing within the jurisdiction of a local board who is not on active duty with the armed forces but who has reached his eighteenth birthday is a delinquent if he fails to register. Such duty is required of him by the Selective Service Law.

It is also true that any male person who has reached his nineteenth birthday but who has not attained the age of twenty-six, residing within the jurisdiction of a local board, is a delinquent if he is required to register and has failed to do so, or if he has failed to perform any act or duty lawfully required of him by the local board. Failure of the registrant to perform such act or duty because he did not receive the communication from his local board is no excuse, provided the local board mailed the communication to the last known address of the registrant. The registrant is required to keep his local board informed of his current address at all times.

Selective Service regulations state as follows: "If a registrant or a person required to present himself for and submit to registration fails to perform any duty prescribed by the Selective Service Law, or directions given pursuant thereto, within the required time, he shall be liable to fine and imprisonment under Section 12 of the Selective Service Act of 1948." This section of the law prescribes punishment, . . . by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000.00 or both fine and imprisonment . . .

Unless the registrant immediately presents convincing evidence to his local board which will enable it to relieve him of the charge, the local board is required by law to order the registrant for induction, if he does not report for induction in accordance with his induction order, the local board is again required by law to report the registrant to the United States Attorney.

Nutcracker Tests Tires

WALNUT CRACKER—One of the chief reasons why a General tire was recently named the top quality tire on the road today by a long-established research organization is this giant hydraulic press. This tire-testing machine, located in the General Laboratory at the Akron, Ohio, plant, exerts as much as 300,000 pounds pressure on the tires tested. It tests every size from huge aircraft and tractor tires to the smallest industrial tire. Scientifically inflated, the tires manufactured at General are washed, twisted, and torn apart in the press to see just how they stand up under the worst kind of punishment. Explaining the machine to Office Worker Marilyn McMahon is Laboratory Technician Jean Petri. BELL-EDWARDS TIRE CORPORATION local General tire distributor, has full information on the complete lines of automobile, industrial, and truck tires manufactured by General.

State Police Issues Call for Applicants To Complete Ranks

With the ranks of the State Police drastically depleted by selective service and the recall of veterans occasioned by the Korean action, Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent, has asked young men between the ages of 21 and 29 to consider positions as troopers.

Present uniformed strength now stands at 366, a figure far short of the authorized 450, Colonel Woodson said, and applications have fallen off due to the unsettled military futures of eligible prospects. He pointed out also that traffic volumes for the first three months of 1945 are about 13 per cent above those for the same period of 1940 and that last year saw the highest number of traffic deaths in Virginia since 1941.

Minimum requirements, he added, are a high-school education or its equivalent, a driver's license, six months' residence in Virginia and willingness to serve anywhere in the state, although in the latter category a trooper is given a duty station as close to that of his choice as possible. Height standards are from five feet 10 inches to six feet 4 inches with weight in proportion to height not to exceed 220 pounds or fall below 160 pounds. Applicants also must pass physical and mental examinations as well as undergo character investigation.

Colonel Woodson stated that immediately upon appointment, the applicant is entered on the payroll as a regular trooper at a starting salary of $2582 per annum which can be raised to $3536 in progressive steps over a period of five years. In addition, all uniforms and equipment, including shoes, are provided as well as one meal each duty day.

Tours of duty are eight hours six days a week with compensatory leave for holidays and a full vacation.

Although Colonel Woodson is asking for recruits and requesting the aid of anyone acquainted with desirable young men, he stated emphatically that the present shortage would in no way lead to the lowering of the present high standards of employment.

The joint project of the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District and possibly the Navy Department, which would drain the Back Bay area was given the approval of the supervisors. Roland E. Ricketts, game warden, explained that the drainage would eliminate black water which backs up in low land in the area by means of a 40-foot canal, six feet in depth, which would run from the Back Bay area to Rudee Inlet, a distance of approximately 8 miles.

Occupational Outlook Given Veterans by VA

The employment outlook in 51 occupations affected by defense mobilization is reported in a new survey prepared for the Veterans Administration by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor. The survey is being used by VA in counseling veterans who plan to train under the GI Bill and Public Law 16, for the disabled.

The field of automobile mechanics will need thousands of trainees each year to replace skilled workers who die, retire, enter military service or leave their jobs for other reasons, the report says. Also, it adds, "many men who are mechanically inclined and have some sales ability" will be able to find jobs as auto parts salesmen for some time to come.

Many types of jobs in the aviation field are becoming easier to get as a result of the defense effort, with the outlook particularly favorable for skilled airplane mechanics, according to the survey. While mobilization temporarily has eased the competition for pilot's jobs, it warned that "competition for pilot positions is likely to be intensified again as many of the young men who will be trained as pilots in the Armed Forces become available for civilian jobs."

Jewelers and watch repairmen will face severe competition for jobs during the next several years as a result of the supply of trained men that built up after World War II, the survey continues.

The medical and dental professions offer excellent opportunities for those able to gain admittance to schools and complete the necessary requirements, while excellent employment opportunities also may be found in the related fields of medical technicians and nursing.

The competition for high school teachers shows signs of easing up in many teaching fields as a result of defense activities, the report says, while even more severe shortages have resulted among kindergarten and elementary school teachers.

Job opportunities for pharmacists should be excellent during the next several years, the report says, as "there was a shortage of registered personnel in many parts of the country in early 1945, because of the sharp drop in graduations during World War II and the expanding employment needs."

Local Board Office Place to Appear on Business Matters

Local Board members, working entirely from patriotic motives and receiving no pay, are, in many cases, being imposed upon by registrants, their dependents, and employers, where such persons are approaching board members in their homes, places of business and various other places outside the Local Board office. The State Headquarters for Selective Service made this statement to the press.

The place to conduct Selective Service business is at the office of the Local Selective Service Board.

The registrant, his dependents and his employer should recognize the provisions of the law prohibiting a Local Board member from acting upon the case of any registrant in an individual capacity. The law requires that all such action shall be done by the majority of the Local Board members acting as a board.

When one desires to discuss the classification of a registrant, arrangements for an appointment with the Local Board should be made through the Local Board Clerk at the Local Board office. In addition to following the prescribed procedure and ensuring proper consideration of evidence submitted, conducting business at the Local Board office extends normal business communications to all members of the Local Board who are busy men in the community, but from patriotic motives are contributing their services at a time when grave dangers confront every community in America.

Merchandising Program Seen Aid to Farmers

A long range program to improve merchandising of fruits and vegetables in Virginia has recently been initiated by the Virginia Division of Markets. Through this program, personnel from the Division of Markets will work with interested retailers to acquaint them with the latest methods of proper refrigeration, trimming, storage, and display by which they may reduce spoilage in the store.

According to H. W. Hewitt, leader of this service project, the farmer is dependent upon the housewife and retailer for the ultimate disposition of his produce. By reducing waste and spoilage of produce in the retail store and making it more attractive to the housewife, the Division of Markets hopes to improve the produce marketing system.

Retailers are encouraged to display a color scheme and display that will prove attractive to the housewife. Being an attractive display, the housewife tends to purchase more of the produce for home consumption.

In January, the farmer received 45 per cent of the retail value of fruits and vegetables, says Mr. Hewitt. A major item in the cost of marketing is the spoilage of fruits and vegetables in the retail store.

This program is now underway

Gene Davis Wins Promotion After Training Course

Gene F. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Snowden F. Davis, 2807 Pacific Avenue, has been promoted to private first class and will be assigned to flight instructor training in the Air Force career field. He is assigned to the Air Force career field by indoctrination center officials at Sampson Air Force Base, New York. He completed his indoctrination training at Sampson April 12.

The Air Force career field was selected following a conference with a career guidance expert and was chosen on the basis of the needs of the service, his personal desires and his aptitude as determined by a series of scientifically designed tests.

Training at Sampson included character guidance, mathematics, psychological and chemical warfare, customs of the service, drill and other subjects in the intensive indoctrination course.

in Lynchburg, and has been met by a very favorable reaction on the part of chain and independent retailers. It is hoped, says Mr. Hewitt, that the program will soon be available to all interested retailers throughout the State.

Consumption of Dairy Products Reaches All Time High in U. S.

Cheese and other dairy foods scored a hit with the people of the United States last year. The consumption of cheese per person reached a new high of 7.7 pounds and gains were made in the amounts of fluid milk, butter, evaporated and condensed milk consumed per capita.

These facts are brought out in a special report, "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods," which has just been issued by the National Dairy Council, Chicago, a non-profit, research and educational agency for the dairy industry.

"Although supplies of dairy products were ample in 1950, the prospects are that not enough of these products will be available in 1951 to satisfy America's growing appetite for dairy foods," Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, observed. "The maintenance of milk production at levels necessary to meet increased demand will depend upon the 1951 feed crop and pasture conditions, the availability of farm labor and equipment, and whether or not dairy farmers shift to more profitable enterprises such as the production of meat or other commodities."

Mr. Hult reported that in only three years since the early thirties—1949-50 and 1950-51—per capita consumption failed to increase over the preceding year. Two of those years were years when cheese was rationed.

The per person use of market milk and cream in 1950 was equal to 266 pounds of milk, an amount 16 per cent above the prewar level and a few pounds over the per capita figures for 1949 and 1948, he said. Aided by higher consumer incomes, sales of fresh fluid milk were greater during 1950 than in 1949.

In 30 Federal order markets, sales of whole milk were greater in each of the first 10 months of 1950, months for which data were available, than the corresponding periods of 1949.

Consumption of butter per person increased slightly in 1950 over 1949—from 10.5 to 10.8 pounds. Production of butter in 1951 is unlikely to equal that of last year and the carryover from 1950 probably will not be sufficient to permit consumption to increase this year at the 1950 rate, he stated.

Increases were registered in ice cream sales during the first and last quarters of 1950 but cool weather in many areas during July and August reduced consumption and more than offset these gains. Ice cream consumption normally responds quickly to income changes and is expected to expand in 1951, Mr. Hult stated.

Evaporated and condensed milk consumption increased 4 per cent last year over 1949. The per capita consumption was 17.8 pounds of evaporated and 2.1 pounds of condensed milk in 1950 compared with 17.7 and 1.9 pounds, respectively, in 1949. A further small increase may occur in 1951, according to Mr. Hult.

Production of defatted dry milk increased to record levels in 1950. Domestic consumption remained at 3.1 pounds per capita. In the year ending June 30, 1950, exports of dry milk accounted for more than a third of the total production.

Mr. Hult emphasized that the retail prices of fluid milk and other dairy foods have risen less over pre-World War II levels than the prices of most other food products, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Between August 15, 1939 and January 15, 1951, he said, meats rose 178.3 per cent in price; beverages, other than milk, went up 258.9 per cent; fish, 246.7 per cent; fruits and vegetables, 131.7 per cent, and all foods, 137 per cent. In contrast, the price of milk delivered to homes rose only 87 per cent, and dairy products as a whole increased only 117.6 per cent.

He concluded that dairy foods are still among the best bargains for the family market basket.

If your sink has a general yellowish cast and has lost that gleaming white look, you can restore its sparkle. Just paper tape in a bottle of laundry bleach and pour them flat against the sink. Good Housekeeping suggests leaving them overnight to insure getting that white look back again. If the yellow rust still persists, use a powdered product made for rust stains. Pure bleach is very powerful, so be sure to handle it carefully and not splash any on your clothes.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

You've Got To Hand It To Sandy

Sandy Johnson's wife "Tiny" suddenly asks him at breakfast the other morning "Why don't you build me some bluebird houses?"

"What for?" asks Sandy. "Why for bluebirds, of course" says Tiny. "We always had 'em at home when I was a girl. May sound silly—but I sorta miss 'em."

Well, I know how busy Sandy's been lately and the thought of taking time out to build birdhouses could have made a lot of men blow their top. But not Sandy. He says, "No, Tiny. It doesn't sound silly. I think it's a wonderful idea—we're going to have bluebirds—and I'm starting on some birdhouses tonight."

From where I sit, we could do with more understanding people like Sandy—and Tiny, too! He respects her likings, and she respects his. He likes a temperate glass of beer now and then—and although Tiny sticks to coffee, whatever Sandy likes is O.K. with her. They live and let live—and that's why they live so happily.

Prospects Bright for Future of South in Agriculture, Industry

Dr. Paul W. Chapman, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Georgia, presents all-time records in total and per capita incomes for the South during 1951. During his presentation on past records combined with intensive study of new developments in agriculture and industry, Dr. Chapman says, "Regardless of whatever gains are ahead, the South will outgrow the nation."

"Selected as an eminent authority on the South, Dr. Chapman was commissioned by The Progressive Farmer to prepare a series of articles on 12 Southern states, scheduled as regular features of the magazine throughout 1951. His recent address before the staff of The Progressive Farmer has been published in a booklet titled 'I Have Seen the South' just off the press and available from The Progressive Farmer without charge.

Detailed studies of many phases of the South's economic history and outlook are presented, complete with tables and charts giving the data on which the author's findings are based.

Although concerned primarily with the Southern region, the national picture also is frequently brought into focus. For instance, he states that it is quite likely that our national income, for the first time in the history of any nation on earth, will this year exceed $300 billion. This figure is 3 to 4 times that of a typical, prosperous pre-war year, and is $70 billion greater than the record income of 1950.

Dr. Chapman states that the South as an agricultural region is frequently misunderstood—"Contrary to public opinion in many cases, the South is the most diversified agricultural area of its size in the United States." He also shows that nearly half the nation's farm population is in the South, and that throughout the past decade, the South has out-gained the nation on all economic fronts. Local food demands in the typical Southern city have increased 100 per cent since the close of World War II. In Texas, Grade A dairies have increased 300 per cent within the past five years. The South is not only out-gaining the nation in added electric output, but has increased its margin of leadership during the past year. It has more students of agricultural sciences enrolled in organized and supervised groups than all the other states combined.

"I Have Seen the South" is a sequel to the booklet "The South Looks Ahead," written by the same author and published by The Progressive Farmer last year.

Copies of both booklets may be obtained from any sales office of The Progressive Farmer or by writing direct to the advertising department of the magazine at the home office, Birmingham, Alabama.

Personnel Needed By Marine Air Reserve Squadron

Recently revised tables of organization for Marine Reserve Fighter Squadrons in the nationwide Marine Air Reserve Training Command call for an increase of personnel.

Due to this increase Tidewater Virginia's Squadron, Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron 233, based at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, has immediate vacancies for three pilots, one ground officer and eighteen enlisted men.

The age limit for men filling these vacancies is 17 to 35 years in the case of non-veterans and 35 years plus service time for veterans. Veterans for any branch of the service will be considered at their former rate.

All men draw four days base pay of their rate for one week, and training period per month at the Norfolk Air Station and full pay and allowances for two weeks training each summer.

Training periods for ground crewmen consist of actual maintenance of aircraft, ordnance, communication work, etc., and ground instruction in all phases of squadron duties. Pilots fly a training syllabus comparable to a regular squadron.

Headquarters for the Norfolk squadron are located in Building LP-73, East Field, Norfolk Naval Air Station. Applicants may apply seven days per week.

The Supreme Court has ruled that there will be another army paper drive in the near future, and ask that everyone save army paper for the collection.

PLOWING BACK
$162,500,000

TO KEEP FAITH IN A VITAL PARTNERSHIP

Improvements on the Norfolk and Western Railway never stop . . . for better railroading and better railroad service is a job that is never finished.

Since the end of World War II, the N. & W. has spent and authorized $162,500,000 for improvements and additions all over the line . . . new equipment, heavier rails and smoother road beds, modern signals, a great tunnel and track relocations to cut down a ruling grade, a fine, new merchandise freight pier at the Port of Norfolk, expanded yards, new and more efficient engine terminal facilities, centralized traffic control, new tools, and scores of other additions and betterments.

The N. & W. is now in the midst of a $44,000,000 new equipment program, which includes the construction in its own shops of 19 more modern, powerful coal-burning steam locomotives, 15 more modern steam switch engines, 6,000 more sturdy 70-ton hopper coal cars, and the purchase of 1,000 more modern 50-ton box cars.

Throughout the years, the Norfolk and Western has followed a policy of continuously "plowing back" a large part of its income into its transportation plant for an ever-better railroad . . . preparing today for the traffic of tomorrow. And remember this: the railway buys, builds and maintains its own steel highway on which it pays large taxes . . . all with railroad dollars—not with taxpayers' dollars.

The Norfolk and Western believes that "plowing back" income to build a better railroad and provide better service is one of the soundest ways to express its faith in the vital partnership between the N. & W. and the communities it has served for nearly 113 years.

KEMPVILLE High School News

Pre-School Conference

The pre-school conference held at Kempville High School April 18 and 19 was attended by approximately 60 children. The children were examined by Dr. Swerfeger and his nurse, Miss Stinnette.

Each mother had a conference with one of the conference counselors who explained her child's defects and what arrangements should be made for the child before he entered school next September.

Teachers Attend Meeting

Mrs. Mabel Church and Mrs. Mary Barnes, Kempville teachers, attended a state-wide convention of language arts teachers at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, on April 20.

The convention was held in two sessions. Dean Lindley Stiles, of the University of Virginia, presided over the morning session. The main speaker was Professor Harold Anderson of the University of Chicago. During the afternoon session, group discussions were held.

Kempville Wins Track Meet

Taking first place in all the running events except the 800-yard run and the 800-yard relay, the Kempville "Blue Devils" won a triangular meet with Suffolk and Oceana at Foreman Field on Monday, April 23. Kempville scored 52 points, Suffolk 41 2/3, and Oceana 30 1/2.

James King led the morning parade with 16 1/4 points, taking first place in the low hurdles and high jump, second in the high jump, third in the broad jump, and ran the first lap on the winning mile relay team. John took first place in the 220 and 440 yard dashes. Robert Amory ran first in the 100 and third in the 300 yard dash. Bobby Stevenson was second in the 440 and third in the 800. The most exciting race of the meet was the mile run which Paul Vestal won going away after being in fourth place at the start of the last lap.

Captain "Kinky" Charles takes his squad to Williamsburg today, April 27, for the District I, Group II meet.

Track Team Places Second

John Sheridan topped three first places to pace his "Blue Devils" team into second place in the Highland Springs Invitational Track Meet on April 19. The host team took top honors with 59 points. Kempville held 33, West Point had 24, Suffolk got 23, and Washington Henry had 2.

Five new meet records were set—Kempville getting three of them. John Sheridan clipped 2.9 seconds off the 220 yard record as he ran the race in 24.8 seconds. James King stepped the 100 yard low hurdles in 23 seconds, 4 seconds faster than the old record. Bobby Stevenson, running his first race in a meet, set a new record in the 800 yard run at 3 minutes 14.8 seconds, clipping 1.3 seconds off the existing record.

In addition to his record breaking performance, Sheridan took first places in the 100 yard dash and the 440 yard dash, for a total of 16 points.

James King gained 3 3/4 points as he placed third in the high hurdles, fourth in the high jump, and ran on the second place mile relay team. Bobby Stevenson picked up an additional 3/4 point as he anchored the mile relay team. Paul Vestal got 1 point as he finished fourth in the mile run. Robert Amory and Rya Dunlap each got 3/4 point as members of the second place mile relay team.

Jimmy Snyder, Glenn Lamber, Bobby Davis, Lewis Kroger and Manager Frank Bohnerick also made the trip.

Captain Charles takes his squad to Williamsburg today, April 27, for the District I, Group II meet.

Orientalism Day

Orientalism Day was held at Kempville on April 23. The 7th grade from Norfolk, Court House and Kempville were guests of the Kempville High School S. C. A.

The visiting students were informed of the school program, the physical education program, and other pre-school information.

Speakers during the day were: Mr. Charles, Lucian Gunter, Dot Trueblood, and Mr. Littleton. Approximately 180 students took part in the activities.

Navy Resumes 14-Day Recruit Leave

The Navy has resumed the practice of giving recruit seamen a 14-day leave after completing "boot" training. Chief Petty Officer Julian A. Forbes, recruiter in charge of the local U. S. Navy Recruiting Station announced.

It was last January, Chief Forbes recalled, that the Navy had to suspend granting such leaves "due to the critical need for personnel effort and because of the capacity limitations at the recruit training centers."

In announcing the reinstatement of recruit leave, which policy becomes effective immediately, Chief Forbes went on to say that he had been advised that recruits would receive their leave from either the training center after completion of recruit training, or from the Navy Receiving Station or continental shore station to which they are ordered for further assignment.
